Search Ruins Of Detroit Factory For More Bodies

Death Toll In Briggs Factory Blast Placed At Eleven

BELIEVE MANY MORE ARE DEAD

Firemen Continue To Pour Water On Smouldering Ruins Today

(International News Service)
DETROIT, April 25.—With the known dead in the Briggs Manufacturing Company disaster placed at 11, firemen today, continued to pour water into the smouldering ruins of the plant where the bodies of five more employes are thought to be buried.

Six of the eleven other severely burned victims have only a slight chance to live, according to receiving hospitals doctors.

Searchers who dug in the smoking ruins of the plant all day yesterday unearthed only one charred body, which morgue officials were unable to identify. The other victims died of burns in hospitals.

Five Unaccounted For

While a squad of 12 foremen was out checking lists of men who were working in the demolished building at the time of the blast, unofficial report of relatives and friends places the total of men unaccounted for at five. It is feared they are buried in the mass of debris, which will take three of four days to sift.

Meanwhile prosecutor Robert M. Toms started an investigation to see if any criminal responsibility attacks to the explosion and fire, the most destructive in Detroit history. John H. French of the Briggs Company officially estimateed the loss at $2,000,000.

Coroner James E. Burgess has announced that he will conduct an inquest into the disaster but the date has not yet been fixed. The State Department of Labor and Industry also is conducting an investigation.

Annual Tribute To Deceased Members Is Given On Sunday Evening

THIRTEEN NAMES ON ROLL FOR YEAR

Annual memorial service to the departed members of New Castle lodge No. 51, Order of Moose, held last night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral auditorium, was one of the outstanding events of the kind ever held by the organization and was attended by approximately a thousand people.

Always an occasion carried out with dignity and solemnity on account of the purpose for which it is held, the service last night was even more so than usual, owing to the fact that during the day there was added to the ranks of members who have passed beyond Charles E. Jenkins, senior past dictator, active and prominent member of the organization and one of the best known men of the city. The announcement made during the service that his name had been added to the list of those whose memory was being honored at this service added to the solemnity of the evening.

Rev. Bright Speaks

The address of the evening was given by Rev. W. Luther Bright of Orrville, O., who delivered an oration in keeping with the occasion and with an effectiveness that was felt by the entire audience. Rev. Bright spoke of the passing on of members of the organization and the noble purpose for which the order carries on.

In the course of his remarks he drew attention to the fact that the order, through its membership, is

District Attorney Pictures Effort To Make Crime Appear As Robbery

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 25.—"They entered his home in the dead of the night—they struck him with an iron sash weight—they tied picture wire around his neck—they even chloroformed him."

"Baldly, bluntly and without attempt at adornment, District Attorney Richard S. Newcombe thus presented to a jury today the alleged killing of Albert Snyder, homeloving husband, by his wife, Ruth Brown Snyder, and her corset salesman lover, Henry Judd Gray.

Both Confessed

"Both of them later confessed", continued the district attorney, while the icy eyes of the widow never wavered from him. "We will introduce their confessions at this trial.

Both Mrs. Snyder and Gray, sitting 10 feet apart, were deathly pale as the droning voice of the district attorney spelled out to the jury the details of what has been characterized the most brutal and revolting crime of a decade. Her paleness, however, was that of icy composure. Gray was visibly agitated. They never glanced at each other.

"The job done", went on the district attorney, "they go out of the room. Gray wore suede gloves. He goes to the bathroom to wash off the blood of Albert Snyder. There is blood on his shirt. He takes it off. Mrs. Snyder goes into the room where her husband now lies dead. She takes a shirt of her husband and gives it to her lover. They go into the cellar and burn the shirt: also her gown."

Attempt to Make It Appear Robbery

Step by step, then, the district attorney pictured to the jury the

Council Holds Meeting Today And Tuesday On Slow Time

Council today met in city hall at nine a. m. Eastern Standard time and will hold their adjourned session at the same hour Tuesday. Friday's meeting will be held at 10 a. m. Eastern Standard.

Inasmuch as various departments are operating on different time it is believed that council will, out of necessity, be forced to clarify the situation by designating one hour for all.

The city police department is operating on Daylight savings time. Likewise the city treasury employes. The health department will adopt fast time Tuesday.

In other words every employe but those affiliated with business transacted by council are on fast time and council, unless they change to Daylight savings will be "out of step"

(International News Service)
JEFFERSON, O., April 25.—The fate of Floyd Hewitt, 18, alleged murder of Mrs. Fred Brown and her five-year-old son at Conneaut last February, will probably be in the hands of the eight men and four women late today or early Tuesday.

All evidence in the trial of the Conneaut youth, on the direct charge of beating little Fred Brown Jr., to death, has been presented and nothing remains except arguments and the charge of the presiding judge, Charles R. Sargent, before the case goes to the jury.

Hewitt predicted Saturday that he would be saved from the electric chair, according to jail attendants.

Prosecutor C. B. Cook has expressed his belief that state rebuttal witnesses so thoroughly riddled the "alibi" claimed by the defense that there can be little doubt regarding the outcome of the case.

Four hours have been assigned for state and defense argument, respectively.

Hoover Declares Huge Sum Needed For Flood Relief

Secretary Of Commerce Is On Ground In Charge Of Relief Work

THOUSAND MILES OF RIVER FLOODED

Ten Million Acres Of Land Inundated—Death Toll Is Now Over 150

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25.—Five million dollars will "barely do half the the job" set out for the Red Cross in the Mississippi flood stricken area, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover said today after a preliminary survey of the urgent tasks already facing the mobilized forces.

At least $10,000,000 will be needed for a work which will require maintenance of the emergency agencies along a thousand miles of river front between St. Louis and New Orleans, he said.

"Never before have we faced an undertaking of such proportion," Hoover said after consulting with Harry M. Baker, national director of Red Cross Disaster Relief.

Baker, who has been in Memphis for several days co-ordinating with army, navy, public health and Red Sross activities throughout the entire flooded region, gave Secretary Hoover his latest reports from the thirty-four Red Cross concentration points along the river below Cairo, Illinois.

150,000 Homeless

With the crest of the flood still to reach the lower Mississippi, today's reports to Hoover showed estimated dead of at least 130 in seven states, with 150,000 already homeless or dependent upon relief agencies for food.

Hoover's experience in famine relief throughout Europe during the war enabled him to appraise the situation in fifteen minutes' conversation with Baker.

"Many of the homeless will have to be cared for by relief organizations for as much as six weeks," Hoover said.

"There are already more than 100,000 known to be pressing for aid at concentration camps and local relief stations. Feeding and housing this multitude alone for a single month, even without hospit-

Removing Fountain From Public Square

Placed There Almost 40 Years Ago By Late Col. Cubbison

Is Being Removed, As It Has Become Barrier To Traffic

One of this city's old landmarks is being removed from the Public Square today, city employes having commenced this morning to dismantle the fountain in front of the Fountain Inn.

The fountain, which was placed there by the late Colonel Cubbison almost two score years ago, when first erected was a thing of yesteryear beauty and furnished water for horses.

The fountain has not been used for the past several years and with the passing of the surrey, the "buggy" and the two-horse teams, it has proved a blockade to auto traffic.

You say its Spring, perhaps 'tis so, but winter was no worse I trow, for folks who see me twist about are laughing at my plight, and how. It may be Spring I guess it is, but snow in springtime makes me sore, and in addition, there's that neck, the weather's cooler, forty-four.

HOOVER DECLARES HUGE SUM NEEDED FOR FLOOD RELIEF

Studies Situation

Hoover spent most of his time enroute from Washington closeted with Major General Edgar Jadwin, Chief of Army Engineers, studying details of the topography in the flooded region with a view to directing the concentration of major forces at the most valuable points along the river below Vicksburg.

The dimensions of this flood are indicated by the fact that the volume of water now passing Vicksburg is a little over 2,000,000 cubic feet a second," Hoover said.

"There is still a crest of unknown volume in the Missouri river between Kansas City and St. Louis, which will require a week or ten days to travel to the lower reaches of the channel. There is, in addition the unmeasured volume in the Ohio from recent rainfalls through out the upper Ohio Valley, which must also flow down upon the already overtaxed levees of Louisiana and Mississippi.

"We are hoping fervently that these two crests from the tributaries do not strike the same channel simultaneously. If one passes down a few days ahead of the other there may be only a slight further rise at Baton Rouge, Natchez and New Orleans. Should they reach Vicksburg together, we do not know what would happen."

Twenty More Deaths

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25.—Sweeping before it death and destruction, the rampaging Mississippi river today had added 20 deaths to its toll of life and flooded several additional towns during the past 24 hours.

Red Cross directors have established the greatest relief expedition in recent years. Contributions are pouring in from all parts of the country in caring for 150,000 refugees.

Collapse of a house harboring 16 negroes four miles north of Greenville, Miss., yesterday sent all of the negroes to a horrible death. Three others died of disease at Greenville, due to the floods, one of pneumonia, one of mumps and a third of exposure.

A white man was drowned at Pine Bluff, Ark.

Death Toll Up to 150

The 20 additional deaths during the past 24 hours have brought the death toll of the greatest flood in the history of the Mississippi river up to approximately 150.

About 10,000,000 acres of farm lands are under water as a result of the floods. Army engineers, after a survey, announced that 6,000,000 acres are flooded in Arkansas and Mississippi alone.

Damage to crops will run into millions of dollars. The engineers said that 9,400 square miles in Mississippi and Arkansas were still under water. The engineers have not checked the flooded areas of Tennessee, Missouri, Kentucky and Louisiana, and say the total land will probably be about 10,000,000 acres when the final tabulation is made.

J. S. Allen, levee engineer at Greenville, Miss., declared today that 200 would be a small estimate for the flood's toll of human life for the area from Vicksburg to the scene of the delta break at Mound's Landing alone. If this estimate is correct for Mississippi, more than 350 lives have been lost in the floods.

Five thousand of the 15,000 population of Greenville were still in the water-soaked city, with a prediction that three feet of the water will be added to the depth of the flood waters. More than 4,000 refugees, mostly negroes, were still on the Greenville levee today, awaiting transportation to Vicksburg for safety.

Garage A Day Is Average Here

Once upon a time, women prone to gossip to and fro, used the stereotyped question "What is home without a baby," but the men of today have changed the last word to read "garage" and as a result more garages than houses are being constructed.

According to records, maintained at the office of the building clerk, "a garage a day" apparently is the rule. Some of the garages are expensive but the majority cost $180.

Town Talk

An auto was seen on the streets here at noon, today, which had the windshield and glass on the front lights, entirely covered with snow. A severe snow storm had been witnessed here a short time previously.

While Easter Sunday one week ago was a perfect June dey, yesterday, the Sunday following Easter was something else again. Weather conditions were cold, and several times during the day, a real wintry snow blizzard was experienced. The snow melted as fast as it struck the ground, but for a time the air was dense with snowflakes.

New Castle industries and activities are now on daylight savings time. The shift was made on Sunday morning. Church services were not conducted on daylight time Sunday, but the change will probably be made for next Sunday. Schools started observance of the daylight time schedule this morning.

Notice is received at The News today that a quotation from the editorial column of this newspaper, is being used in "Topics of the Day" nationally circulated movie comment film. It will be shown in 3000 theatres, before fifteen million persons. The quotation used from The News is:

"Once there was a girl who didn't read her sweetheart's letters to her girl friends . (fade in) . She didn't have any sweetheart."

seeking, not to change those who have reached the mature age and have formed their habits, so much as it aims to instill in the youth of today those noble purposes of life that will bring forth the best in life in the years to come. Through Mooseheart, that institution where the orphans of members are trained and given an opportunity in life, he said, the order of Moose was doing its greatest and most noble work. The lesson he brought was that in doing good for others, the Loyal Order of Moose was bringing forth that which is noblest in mankind.

Dr. Roscamp Gives Eulogy

Owing to sickness, Thomas J. O'Hara, who was to have given the eulogy, was replaced on the program by Rev. Dr. R. G. Roscamp, whose eulogy was in keeping with the occasion and proved a scholarly and intensely effective effort.

The program as previously announced was carried out. The opening number was a selection by the Moose orchestra, directed by Mrs. Elsa VonMolke Emery. This was followed by prayer by Harry L. Wright, prelate and dictator-elect. Then occurred the ceremony arranged for memorial services, in which Audle Southern, junior past dictator, and Sergeant-At-Arms Tom A. Dunn took part. There was a selection by the Moose quartette, after which Dictator Audle Southern had a special part and the roll of deceased members was called and ceremonies in accordance with the provisions of the order for such events held.

Roll of Departed

The roll numbered 13, with the inclusion of that of Charles E. Jenkins. The others who passed on during the past year were Jacob C. Stoner, Henry C. Boenish, Fred McCaslin, P. K. Stevenson, John Graham, Thomas M. Leathers, Lemuel L. Pritchard, Lewis Lewis, William W. Able, John Jenness, M. J. Connor and Reuben Gackenbach.

A second selection was rendered by the Moose orchestra, after which Miss Mary Harvard rendered a solo, with Miss Jessie Mockel as accompanist. Elsa VonMolke Emery then gave a violin selection, accompanied by Miss Leta Mae John. The eulogy of Rev. Dr. R. G. Roscamp was then given.

The balance of the program included a selection by the Moose orchestra, a duet by Messrs. George Anthony and Harry Evans, the address of Rev. W. Luther Bright, a selection by the Moose quartette, benediction by Harry L. Wright as prelate and the concluding number by the Moose orchestra.

A striking feature of the program occurred at the stroke of nine o'clock, when the officers of the lodge and the speaker faced the west and Mooseheart and repeated a prayer for the children of that great home, using the words, "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me" in an effective manner.

All the officers were in full dress and the stage was wonderfully attractive with its decorations of lilies, ferns and palms and beautiful electric effects, including a large wreath over the center of the stage and the perfect Moose head with the flaming red heart of the order suspended over it.

The committee in charge consisted of Messrs. S. R. Dieringer, Frank W. Meyers and Harry Black. Officers of the lodge are Audle Southern, junior past dictator; Harry L. Wright, dictator; Charles E. Siegfried, vice dictator; Fred J. Davis, prelate; Tom M. Moore, secretary; James J. Dunn, treasurer; Amos Snyder, Jacob C. Shook and H. E. Warnock, trustees; Tom A. Dunn, sergeant-at-arms; Thomas Howell, inner guard; William E. Bryson, outer guard.

elaborate but stupid precautions taken to make the murder appear as a robbery. He told of the overturned chairs, the rifled bureau drawers, the disarrangement of the house, and finally of Mrs. Snyder's being trussed up with a rope and a gag to make the picture complete.

The murder of Albert Snyder, Newcombe said, was one of cold-blooded deliberation and premeditation.

"We will show you", he promised the jury, "that Snyder was slated for killing on March 7." Snyder was actually killed on the night of March 19.

Newcombe's address to the jury was a complete story of the crime, related in a blunt, matter-of-fact manner which accentuated its horrible aspects. He first pictured to the jury the intimacy of Ruth Brown Snyder and the somewhat effeminate corset salesman. He told of the growth of their affair, and how finally they determined to put the unsuspecting husband out of the way, and their elaborate precautions against being caught.

"What effect did our action have on the city?" asked Councilman Genkinger today when councilmen were in session. The rest of council smiled, feeling that they were alone in using Standard time.

Last summer council was criticised for adopting Fast time. This season they determined to do what they believed the majority of citizens desired and went back to Standard time hours.

Today they discovered that the citizens had turned their clocks ahead and Councilman Davies indicated today that, sooner or later, council will, out of necessity, be forced to use Fast time.

Possibly he wasn't an official New Orleans guide, but he held the little group of tourists spellbound by his tales of the Cabildo and the Pontalba buildings and the old Cathedral. And then somebody noticed the big gun in Orleans Alley.

"What is that?" he asked the guide.

"That?" informed the guide with a look of condescending surprise on his face. "Why, that's what they used during the Spanish domination to canonize the saints."

Absent-Minded Lose Articles On Cars

Bible, Cloves, Dress Goods Are Among Articles Found

Gloves, dress-goods, a pair of overalls, a notebook, Mible, brace-and-bit and numerous other articles left by absent-minded persons on New Castle street cars and auto busses await owners at the dispatcher's office of the P-O Electric railway station here.

Among the gloves are pairs which milady had to pay a fancy price for; others are of cheaper manufacture. The dress-goods are evidently for a baby, yet in swaddlin's while the overalls evidently belong to a stone mason, plaster or hod-carrier.

The notebook is one used by workmen who keep their own time while the Bible shows that it has been used extensively. The brace-and-bit is not of the expensive kind. Nevertheless they have all been found and await their owners.

Parents Are Missing; Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Ask to Adopt Child

Mr. and Mrs. George Braxton of Rose Point this morning presented a petition in court asking leave to adopt Doris Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, formerly of the South Side, but whose whereabouts are at present unknown. It is claimed by the petitioners that on February 5, 1925, when the child was but three months old, that the parents, who were about to leave the city, left the child with them, as they did not know where they were likely to locate and did not want to take her with them. Mr. and Mrs. Braxton, at that time, were temporarily residing in the city.

Later they went to Rose Point where they have lived the greater part of the time since 1920. Nothing was afterwards heard of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Braxton, who have had the child ever since, have become attached to her, and as they have no children of their own are anxious to adopt her. Judge Hildebrand fixed May 9 as a time for hearing.

Samuel Cornelius who was sentenced eighteen months to the Allegheny county workhouse for driving an automobile while intoxicated, was paroled by Judge Hildebrand this morning after a hearing. Cornelius has served about nine months of his time, and is in poor health.

A parole was also granted to Harry Horney of Andrew street, who was sentenced to fifteen months to the workhouse for selling liquor, it being his second offense. He has served about nine months of his time. Horney has a wife and seven children which the county has had to keep since he was sentenced to the workhouse.

WISE MR. HOOVER

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE HOOVER takes the sound view that the creation of a secretary of education, with a seat in the cabinet, is wholly unnecessary and unwise. Of course, he believes in giving every stimulus and encouragement to education, but thinks that federal interference would do more harm than good.

Proponents of the movement for the establishment of a national department of education disclaim any purpose to bring about federal control or centralization in Washington of school administration. They vision a department that would help rather than boss state and local departments.

In a federal department such as they outline there would be nothing objectionable, but what guarantee is there that it would not serve as an opening wedge to interference with the states in their educational programs and that an unnecessary and mischievous standardization of methods and studies would not be the inevitable result?

It is feared that the "studies" and statistical and informatory activities of the department as now proposed would soon be expanded until the state departments would cease to be administrators of education and become merely messengers between the federal department and the schools.

Standardization of education, especially in such a heterogeneous nation as this, holds forth many dangers, but there is the additional objection to a federal education department that it would be another public trough to be kept full by the taxpayers for hungry political hangers-on.

LOOKING OVER SOVIET LAND

FROM New York comes the announcement that 120 American students are going to Russia this summer "to study various aspects of Soviet life." Much good it will do them. The "various aspects" will simmer down to precisely what the Soviet authorities wish them to see, and nothing else. They will have a look at Moscow and Leningrad. But how can they penetrate beneath the surface or go out among the masses and discover the actual state of mind?

They can't. They may have an interesting trip, but as far as the practical side is concerned they might just as well stay at home, for they will learn just nothing at all of actual fact. Some of our eminent statesmen have been over the ground, and the collection of misinformation they brought home was something impressive.

Better let Russia stew. When it get good and tired it will emerge.

MORE AMERICAN SEAMEN

THOUSANDS of American boys, hearing the call of the sea, are writing each year to the United States shipping board for a chance "to go down to the sea in ships." Large numbers of them are hired as deck boys on shipping board ships at $25 a month.

The board's experience with these youngsters has been that a large percentage of them seem to be born to the sea. They learn rapidly and do not find that the life on the bounding main loses its romance a few miles from shore. From the shipping board this new generation of American sailors has earned these words of praise: "A large percentage of them now are on their way to development as efficient officers."

But there should be no cause for surprise in this aptitude for navigation of the modern American boy. The American people have a seagoing tradition. When the nation was still young American sailors were the best and boldest sailing the seven seas and American ships were seen in all the ports of the world.

The United States ceased to be a seagoing nation when the development of its vast internal resources claimed their attention and offered them rewards far richer than had ever been won at sea. Once they carried across the seas the goods of the world; now their goods are carried into every port by ships of other nations.

Americans, who flush with pride when they think of the seamanship of their forefathers, like to believe it something more than a coincidence that the country's new merchant marine has been cutting its annual deficits as it has built up a distinctly American personnel.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—"The worst Mississippi flood in a hundred years." Towns wiped out, millions of acres flooded, all crop prospects for this year gone, lives and millions of dollars lost.

How seriously will congress deal with this problem? What will the government do while waiting for congress to act?

Will it attack and solve the problem far up the river at the source? Or will you read a few years hence, "Worst flood in all history."

In the African jungle one animal kills another; another pounces on the killer, kills him and takes his prey. In prohibition's jungle the third animal is the hi-jacker, who kills the bootlegger and takes his prey-whisky or money.

Here in Los Angeles the king hi-jacker was called "Mile-Away" Thomas, because he was usually a mile away when wanted. He is farther away than that now.

Three detectives got him in a garage where they had been "staked out" to wait for him. When he showed his flashlight the detectives opened fire with a machine gun, sawed-off shotgun and heavy automatic.

Riddled with bullets "Mile-Away" was able to run to the sidewalk, into the arms of a policeman. The ambulance detective said, "You're dying."

"Everybody has to fall sometime," replied "Mile-Away," and said nothing else, taking all information to the grave with him.

The weather seems determined to do its worst in the midwest. Tornadoes and cloudbursts are followed now by a cold wave, ruinous to crops.

Some day the human race may learn to regulate earth's temperature and climate as well as we regulate the temperature of an apartment house or steamship.

Surplus heat at the equator will be diverted to the arctic circle. And when you will do away with excessive heat and excessive cold you will do away with tornadoes, typhoons, etc.

Some will call that "nonsense." They would have called radio, flying machines, submarines utter nonsense.

What men can imagine they can do. They will regulate this earth from the arctic to the antarctic, all around the equator, temperature and rainfall.

That, of course, is thousands of years away. Control of Mississippi floods can be accomplished now, whenever the government decides, to spend a little of its money. The value of water impounded, diverted and used would exceed the cost of the undertaking.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

GOOD ROADS

Out in California the Senate Committee on Revenue and Taxation approved by a significant and almost unanimous vote of ten to one, the proposition to complete the highway system of California.

This is to be done by levying an extra one cent in the gasoline tax. The revenue from this source is estimated at ten millions of dollars a year and will be devoted exclusively to new highway construction.

Other Federal aid sources and additional funds bring the total appropriation up to nearly $120,000,000.

California notoriously has a magnificent system of highways. The climate is favorable to good roads. It is certainly a lure for the tourists.

California therefore is sensible when by a small tax upon every gallon of gasoline it can perfect and improve its already admirable highways.

As has been said, one of the things that attract the tourist to California is the fact that he can always go out in the open air. He is reasonably sure to get brilliant sunshine, but good roads are indispensable.

In addition to this, however, good roads develop the agricultural community. They enable the farmer to get his crops quickly and cheaply to market and increase the value of his farm.

One of the greatest comforts in living in the country is a well-paved highway over which one can go to the city or take his goods to the market.

There is no alternate freezing and thawing in California such as breaks up the roadways in the East. One can travel for hundreds of miles over a highway as smooth as a floor. Undoubtedly it is such roads that attract many tourists to this state.

As a mere form of advertising, therefore, the good highway is valuable.

Recent reports have shown that the tourist crop in California is worth more to the state than all its imports and exports, and whatever encourages tourists ought to be furthered.

The scenery is magnificent in the Pacific Rockies and on the Pacific Coast and if the roads are perfect by which the scenery may be viewed, it is certainly a lure to the tourist.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE WHITE MAN'S JOB.

It is said that those in charge of the education of Queen Elizabeth began so early in their training of that very remarkable womap that at the age of four, she was able to not only read and write the English language, but she was likewise able to read and write the Latin language, and had some knowledge of Greek. That story is more or less tradition; but in the city of Los Angeles there is a plump round faced Japanese youngster who will be four years old the thirtieth of this month, and the most appropriate birthday gift for him, it is suggested, would be a set of the Harvard Classics. James Ito is his name, and he is a student of most astonishing attainments.

He is already two readers ahead of his sister Ella, who at five years is getting along nicely in the first reader. Jimmy is in the third reader and will be out of it, ready for grown up books, before he is tall enough to see over a table. Here is what this small boy has accomplished since he was two years old.

1. Reads both English and Japanese.
2. Writes both languages in the neatest kind of lettering.
3. Spells such English words as "Broadway" "carnation" "telephone" and two or three hundred others without missing a syllable.
4. Counts in English and Japanese and does simple mental arithmetic.
5. Reads not only printed words, but sentences written in longhand.

Too young to go to school or even to attend a regular kindergarten, Jimmy has been taught at home by his father, J. S. Ito, who is himself a remarkable Japanese.

While the "Yellow Peril" is being considered, such stories as the above tale of a Japanese boy must be taken into consideration. The Mongolian Race was once on top of the World. The World has always supported a Winner, not a Loser. The White Race must look to its laurels, if it is going to maintain its present supremacy, and kow-towing to China is not a good way to show supremacy.

A GOLFER'S RESOLUTIONS

When starts the season, this I say:
"A better game of golf I'll play
And put my silly faults away.

"I will grow strong where I am weak.
I will not lift my head to peek,
Nor hear the caddie, should he speak.
"I will not press, nor lunge, nor sway
Nor blindly throw a match away,
A better game of golf I'll play."

This vow I've made from year to year,
And yet when autumn draweth near,
The same old weaknesses appear.

Despite my teacher's best advice
That golf requires a stroke precise,
I rush the shot and hook or slice.

I do know better, and I should
Do better with the iron and wood,
But still my game stays far from good.

And so with life. The right I know,
I have been taught the way to go,
But still I seem to blunder, so!

STONES.

Traveling through almost any of the eastern states, you will notice the stone fences, sometimes called stone hedges, along the roadside and dividing field from field. Generally these fences are of almost uniform height and thickness. They are as high as a strong but tired man cares to life a heavy stone. They are as thick as necessary to support such height. The heaviest stones are at the bottom. Many of the fences have occupied their present locations for a good deal more than a century. They are bound about with creeping vines, and their outlines are softened by moss.

Most of these stone fences represent long days and weeks and months of toil; hard, heartbreaking toil. The settler started out to clear up his land of stones, so that he could grow crops upon it. All winter he pried loose, broke and carried away stones from his field, piling them into fences at the edge of the road, or along convenient boundary lines. In the spring he sowed his seed in the little clearing, and all summer he dulled his hoe or his cultivator shovels on stones. For, no matter how many stones the farmer hauled away, there were plenty left behind.

The freezing and thawing of the ground through the winter season brought more stones to the surface, and besides clearing additional land the farmer had to go back over the ground he cleared the previous spring and haul away to the fences more stones.

To me there is no more tragic story than that of an old New England farmer that was told to me by one of the old man's neighbors. This John Baynter was not always old, to be sure. He bought his little farm when he was a young bridegroom, and he started out with great energy to build stone fences. He lived to the age of 78, and his life was a slavery to stones.

Year in and year out John Bayntер cracked stones and carried them to the edge of the field, or hauled them on a "stone-boat" drawn by one horse. He labored early and late, and his fences grew to enormous proportions, but always his fields were stony and his crops were small. He killed himself one spring day, when he found that he could no longer lift a stone.

You would think that some realistic writer would give us a novel entitled "Stones". For here is stark tragedy.

City To Place Two Safety Zones

Will Be Placed In Front Of P.-O. Station And Sodus Store

Councilman Tyler today suggested to Mayor Dunlap and colleagues, during formal session at city hall, that safety zones for car and auto passengers of the P-O company, be established in East Washington street in front of the P-O station and Sotus store.

Tyler declared that passengers attempting to board and leave cars which take on and discharge passengers on the Diamond near the P-O station and Sodus store are endangered by automobiles and in a considerable number of instances have been splashed with mud-water when taxicabs and automobiles whirl through pools.

Mayor Dunlap said that the police department traffic squad, or any city employes ordered, can establish the zones by painting white lines at the section referred to. He said, however, that it is a busy corner and may not work satisfactorily.

However, the mayor said the department heads, will be willing to try Tyler's plan.

Guest Slaps Kerensky At Chicago Banquet

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 25.—The identity of the man who slapped the face of Alexander Kerensky, former premier of Russia's provisional government, during a banquet last night at the Palmer House was revealed today as Dr. Boris Gregory Telesnitsky, prominent North Shore physician, and former officer in the Czar's army.

The attack on Kerensky, the honor guest at the banquet, threw the dinner-jacketed guests into a riot that for a time threatened to develop into an old-fashioned free-for-all.

As the former premier was making his way to the banquet table, a tall, dark man rose from his seat and landed a resounding smack with his right palm on Kerensky's cheek.

"That's for what you did to the officers of the Russian army", said his assailant.

Several of Kerensky's aides leaped for the man that struck him, but another stranger stood up beside the attacker and together they fought off Kerensky's friends until detectives arrived.

Dr. Telesnitsky was released on his own recognizance. His friend proved to be Lieut. Serge Busch, also a former officer in the Russian army.

"I slapped Kerensky", explained Dr. Telenitsky, "because I wanted to put some dignified indignity upon him, to insult him in order to call public attention to what he is doing in this country.

"Lieutenant Busch and I were driven from Russia with the defeat of the white army. We then said 'Russia is lost—we are men without a country'' and we made our way to the United States and made this country our country.

"We saw enough of Kerensky in Russia. He was responsible for the killing and assassination of many Russian officers. He did enough harm to the country that was my country. I don't want him coming here to harm now the country that is my country."

Kerensky refused to prefer charges against Dr. Telesnitsky and after order was restored resumed his place at the banquet table.

Number Of Dogs In State Increased

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 25.—According to the Weekly Bulletin issued by the State Department of Agriculture, the licensed dog population of Pennsylvania not including Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton, was 342,577 on March 1, a total of 39,448 more than the same period in 1926. In spite of this increase, however, there were still about 156,244 dogs out of 498,812 licensed last year which remain unlicensed up to March one.

More attention is being given this year by dog owners to the state dog law which requires that all dogs be licensed and carry a license tag on or before January 15 each year. The dog law enforcing officials of the Bureau of Animal Industry, State Department of Agriculture, have been busy rounding up unlicensed dogs and expect to continue the drive against violators of the law until every community in the state is visited.

More than 1800 people have been prosecuted so far this year for not having their dog properly licensed.

OLD IROQUOIS GOES FROM SUMMER FLEET AT CONNEAUT LAKE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—The condition of Ramsay MacDonald, former prime minister of Great Britain, was "much improved" today, according to Jefferson hospital authorities. Ishbel MacDonald, who is accompanying her father, left for New York yesterday to keep his engagements.

Fire Siren Kills Chickens

(International News Service)

GORDON, Pa., April 25.—The new fire siren installed in this borough by the Citizens' Fire Company may prove valuable in saving property from fire, but it's disastrous to poultry, according to Nathan Gable, yardmaster of the Reading Railroad Company here, and a chicken fancier.

The Gable poultry yard is located a block from the fire house where the siren was installed. When it sent out its appeal for the first time eight pullets dropped dead, according to Gable. The poultry fancier has expressed wishes that there are few fires and few needs of the siren. Otherwise he may be driven out of the chicken business before his flocks become acquainted with the piercing notes of the siren.

Governor Delays Naming Judges

May Not Make Appointments Until After Primaries In September

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 25.—Although Governor Fisher has a number of judgeships to fill, he does not plan to make any appointments until after he has disposed of all legislative matters.

The constitution gives the governor 30 days after final adjournment of the legislature to dispose of all bills left on his desk by the lawmakers.

After May 14, the final day for action on the 832 bills which had not been signed or vetoed by time the legislature adjourned, he will have reorganizations in departments and appointments to state office to occupy his attention.

Among the judgeships he has to fill are an orphans' court berth in Philadelphia and common pleas judgeships in Berks and Lawrence counties, all created by enactment of the 1927 legislature.

Bills for two judgeships in Delaware county also were passed and are among the 832 on which no action had been taken by adjournment.

In addition a vacancy in Chester county, caused by death of President Judge William Butler Jr., which has existed some weeks, has not been filled.

Because of local political conditions in some of the counties it is probable the governor will make no appointment for those counties until after the primary elections in September.

MAN DIES IN CREEK

YOUNG MATRON MUCH ENTHUSED

Smilingly Tells of Amazing Manner in Which World's Tonic Banished Catarrh

Men and women in every section of New Castle are using World's Tonic Catarrhal Treatment and highly praise it for the surprising results it is bringing.

A young matron of Jefferson St. is one of those who are highly enthusiastic about World's Tonic. A little over a week ago this young woman purchased a bottle of World's Tonic. Yesterday she returned and bought her second bottle. Then she smilingly told the man:

"Your treatment proved to be what I had long been looking for.

"My catarrh had become very bad and it seemed like I couldn't find anything that would help it. It was really getting serious. I'd been troubled for five years and had got to a point where I had headaches constanly, hawked and spit mucus all the time, had ringing in my ears, dry scales in my nose, watery eyes and just felt bad and disagreeable all over.

"Well, as I said, the World's Tonic Treatment was just what I needed. I haven't had a headache since I started using it and the mucus in my nose and throat also disappeared almost at once. The ringing in my ears and all the other distress of the catarrh has left and I'm feeling better all over than for a long time."

World's Tonic Catarrhal Treatment is made for catarrh. It not only combats catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its very source—within the system, and that is why it is able to bring such amazing benefit.

Get World's Tonic today at McKee's, Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's, or any other reliable druggists. (2514)

RHEUMATISM AND INDIGESTION WAS MAKING HER LIFE MISERABLE

Wampum Lady Says She Was A Physical Wreck When She Started On Dreco

"I want to thank Dreco for bringing back my health and making me feel better than I have in years," is the grateful statement made to the Dreco man at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store by Mrs. Pearl Yoho, wife of the rural mail carrier at Wampum, Pa.

"My whole body was filled with rheumatism and I was so stiff and sore I'd often have to hold on to the bed post if I wanted to turn over in bed. My knees were so weak in the mornings I'd stagger all around the room before they'd take care of my weight properly. It was misery for me to do my work. My stomach was so bad I was almost starving myself and the food I did eat just laid in a lump when it reached my stomach, burning like a bed of hot coals and forming gas which shot thru me like a knife. I was always constipated and, in addition, suffered severely with dizzy spells, headaches, nervousness and could not sleep at nights.

"Although I must have used a barrel of medicines and liniments my condition became steadily worse until some dear friends of mine recommended that I try Dreco.

"Well, I followed their advice and the result's have been so very wonderful I am now recommending this great remedy to everyone. Every trace of rheumatism has vanished from my system and in spite of the fact that I eat twice as much as I used to I am no longer troubled with any form of stomach distress. My bowels are regular, the headaches and dizzy spells have vanished, my nerves have been quieted and I now sleep like a rock all night long and wake up refreshed and ready for the hardest day's work."

Mr. Paul Thorp, the well-known expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 25.—According to the State Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, a total of 118 prosecutions were ordered during March for the violation of Pennsylvania food laws. Twenty-eight dealers were fined for adding cereal to weiners, and several for artificially coloring the skin of bologna and weiners.

Fourteen dealers were prosecuted in Allegheny, Beaver and Elk counties for using hydrogen peroxides as preservatives in soft drinks. Only one case was found during the month where eggs were sold as fresh which were not fresh.

Miners Stand Firmly Behind Union Officials

Philip Murray Addresses Union Miners And Is Given Fine Support

(International News Service)

FAYETTE CITY, Pa., April 25.—Members of the United Mine Workers here today stood staunchly committed to stand by their organization as the bituminous suspension rapidly nears a more critical stage for this district.

At an open air mass meeting near here yesterday scores of miners gathered to hear Philip Murray, international vice president of the workers, deliver a resume of the progress of the suspension.

The miners in this district would be vitally affected in case the Vesta Coal company announces a non-union policy at its workings, as many of the unionists in this district had been employed in the Jones and Laughlin collieries.

Not Decided On Garbage Plant

City May Reconstruct Present Plant Or Build New Incinerator

Council has not yet decided whether to reconstruct the present plant or build a new garbage disposal plant, Councilman Davies said today. When bids are asked contractors will be asked to present alternate bids, one set for reconstruction and the other for a new furnace.

The proposed bond ordinance, which is to be reprinted, provides $45,000 for incinerating plant purposes. Davies today said that this amount is "almost sufficient to build a new furnace".

Claim Property Was Damaged By Blasts

The case of Rocco Spara and Joe Gatto against the George W. Johnson Limestone Company was taken up for trial before Judge Hildebrand in Lawrence county court this morning. Plaintiffs allege that the defendant company owns and operates limestone quarries near Hillsville, and that September, 1922, property of plaintiffs were damaged to the extent of $2,500 by blasting in the quarries.

Europeans mustn't get the wrong impression. There is only one small-town weekly anybody would sue for a million.

Belasco Attends Snyder-Gray Case, Gets Attention

(International News Service)

COURT HOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 25.—David Belasco, famous theatrical impressario, is the latest celebrity to appear at the Snyder-Gray murder trial. He came into the court room today for the first time and attracted much atention. He took a seat among the first row of spectators.

The gray-haired dramatist wore a black coat and a high clerical collar, and was greatly interested in the proceeding.

"I am not in search of dramatic material as I do not go in for such sordid topics such as this," Belasco said.

"But I feel that this court drama provides a great study of human emotions—the woman defendant fighting the man defendant. Think this will prove to be one of the most dramatic trials in history."

VOICES OPINION OF NEW CASTLE

Expansion Plans For New Castle Meet With Hearty Approval

Another citizen voices his opinions concerning New Castle.

New Castle Chamber of Commerce,
312 Greer Building,
New Castle, Pa.
Gentlemen:—

"The writer has read with much interest your proposed New Castle Expansion Movement and will say right here that I believe it to be a great idea to make our city a better place to live in.

I have always thought New Castle was one of the best towns in Western Pennsylvania and there is no reason why it can't be put in a class by itself, if every one will put their shoulder to the wheel and give the old town a lift.

There are so many good ideas in your movement that I will not attempt to mention them in this letter, but we all know they are sound and should be encouraged by every citizen of the town and county.

A city well advertised, is half sold."

Yours very truly,
H. H. Noble,

Clarence E. Caven Is Declared Legally Dead At Court Session This Morning

Clarence E. Caven was declared legally dead, and orders were issued to the register and recorder to issue letters on his estate, by Judge Hildebrand this morning. The order was made on a petition presented by H. A. Caven in January. Petitioner claimed that Clarence E. Caven had been missing for many years, and that all clues to his whereabouts, if living had been lost. At that time Judge Hildebrand made an order of publication. In the petition this morning it was stated that three advertisements had been inserted in The News, and that twelve weeks have elapsed since the last publication. Judge Hildebrand then confirmed his preliminary order declaring Caven legally dead.

WASHINGTON COOL TO TIEUP WITH OTHER POWERS IN CHINA

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—John Van A. MacMurray, America's minister in Peking, is a diplomat of long experience, especially versed in Oriental wiles.

Most of America's consuls in China also are foxy old hands. Consul Davis, until recently at Nanking, was born there.

Yet the state department, every time it's had to act in the pending Chinese crisis, has shown a disposition to throw off a liberal discount from the recommendations of its representatives on the ground, before making up its mind.

Nobody questions that MacMurray and the American consuls, like other foreigners in China, thoroughly understand the old Chinese diplomatic game.

What makes the state department uneasy is that they all seem to be playing the same old game now—and the state department has a hunch that the rules have been changed.

If so, it may appear that MacMurray and the rest, who actually are "sitting in", ought to know it better than anybody else.

The state department isn't so sure. It has an idea that, as a bystander, it may see more of what's going on than the participants, each with his whole attention riveted on his own immediate next play.

Time was, up to 12 or 15 years ago, when China would stand anything rather than fight.

Consequently when the "powers" wanted anything from the Chinese, they'd say, "Now let's all stick together and put in a joint demand, promising the Chinks a whale of a licking if they don't come across."

It was perfectly safe, because the Chinese always did come across.

Occasionally they were a little balky, but a few gunboats and one or two regiments of marines invariably brought 'em to time.

One of these "situations" has arisen now.

The Chinese revolution's getting tiresome. It hurts foreign trade. It threatens more foreign losses yet. The interior of the country, in fact, isn't safe. It's in just such a turmoil as Europe was in 1914-18.

Joint action by the "powers" is being strongly urged.

Washington always has been suspicious of "joint action" in China.

The Washington government doesn't question its duty to look after its nationals, but it has traditionally regarded "joint action", in dealing with the Chinese as a method which lends itself to abuse. It doesn't disguise that it feels the same way now.

But the "powers'" representatives in China have been doing their best to "sell" to America's representatives there the idea that this is the time when a "joint demand" on the Chinese is imperative.

What sticks in the state department's claws is this:

When the "powers" used to make "joint demands" they didn't care whether America was in on 'em or not, possibly because they knew there wouldn't be a fight anyway, so they wouldn't need anybody to help.

This time there's about a 50-50 chance of a scrap, in which case, query:

Will the "powers" sit back and say?—

"We're too poor to 'tend to this part of the job, so we leave it to you, partner, to lick the Chinese."

* * *

Washington's hopeful of settling everything amicably, playing a lone hand.

Hence its coolness toward its representatives' hints at the desirability of a hook-up with the British, the French, the Italians and the Japanese.

DO YOU GET THIS?

Jimmy—Why does an Indian wear feathers on his head?

Betty—Why, I suppose to keep his wigwam.

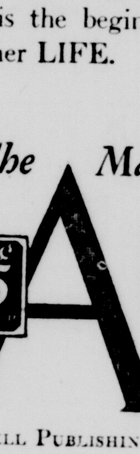

HIS OWN METHODS

Sweet Young Thing—Why are you running that steam roller over that field?

Farmer—I'm going to raise mashed potatoes this year.

Amend Ordinance For Bond Issue

Remove Provision Providing Fund For Specific Purpose

Councilmen in session at city hall today, at the motion of Councilman Burns amended a proposed ordinance providing a $100,000 increase in the bond indebtedness of the city by striking out a provision providing $15,000, for the purpose of purchasing fire equipment for the city. The $15,000, as the result of the amendment will be provided for the purpose of improving streets.

The bill when passed will give the city power to issue bonds for the purpose of making general improvements, such as the construction or reconstruction of a new incinerating plant, extension and construction of certain sewers and improvement of streets.

Dr. Maxwell Tells Rotarians Of Navy Work During War

Tells Of Ten Trips Across Water On Transport During World Conflict

Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, D. D., of the Epworth Methodist church, a former chaplain of the navy, addressed the New Castle Rotarians at the luncheon held at the Fountain Inn today on "Ten Trips on a Transport".

Dr. Maxwell spoke in strong emphasis on the undemocratic and un-American mode of discipline practiced in the navy and said that after several months on the transport U. S. S. General Grant he was convinced that discipline could be maintained by a more fair method.

The greatest task of the navy was to transport the 1,000,000 American soldiers safely to France, and they accomplished this without the loss of a single soldier by combat. This was a task that not only the Germans, but allied naval officers thought was impossible. But the impossible was done. Methods of protection from the submarines as described by Dr. Maxwell were the lookouts, camouflage, zigzagging, darkness on the transports, destroyers and cruisers.

Right after the war men in the navy and army did not seem to want to hear or relate experiences, said Dr. Maxwell. But now, after nearly 10 years, the appearance and great successes of the great pictures such as "What Price Glory", etc., show an increased interest in affairs of the war.

Thus, he said, he was glad to speak to the Rotarians on the topic about which the public in general have heard little; that is, transporting our army to France.

Is Your Book Overdue At City Library?

When a book is returned to the library which is overdue, a fine of two cents for each day of overtime is charged. The maximum fine is fifty cents. Your book may thus have been overdue one month or twelve, but your fine will not run over fifty cents for each book. This fine does not compensate for the loss of the book during this period. Sometimes the delinquent book is the only copy, and some one may have needed it badly. The library staff is frequently embarrassed by this situation.

Do not thing that when you pay a fine of from two to fifty cents you are enriching the library. Before your fine has reached the maximum point, you will have been sent two postcards and a letter in succession, reminding you of the fact that your book is overdue. The cost of printing, postage and clerical work necessary to sending these notices is not covered by a small fine. If a messenger must be sent for your book, the cost of his or her time and carfare must be added to the cost of rounding up the delinquent book.

Look at your date-due slip in the book.

Return your overdue book so that someone else may use it.

Contagious Cases Slowing Up Here

Although New Castle fortunately had a mild winter in regard to the number of contagious disease cases being reported to city health officials, there has been a noticeable decrease during the past four days, not one case being reported.

FIREMEN ANSWER TWO FIRE ALARMS

City firemen answered two fire alarms over the week end. One was from box 45 at 9:40 p. m. Saturday evening, calling them to 924 Raymond street, where a pole of the P. & O. Electric company was on fire. The pole was hollow and it looked as if it had been set on fire by the use of matches.

The other alarm was received from box 59 at 2:40 p. m., Sunday, calling the firemen to the property of Vincent Shoaff, 1201 Pennsylvania avenue. The chimney was burning out. There was no damage.

CITY FIREMEN GO ON DAYLIGHT TIME

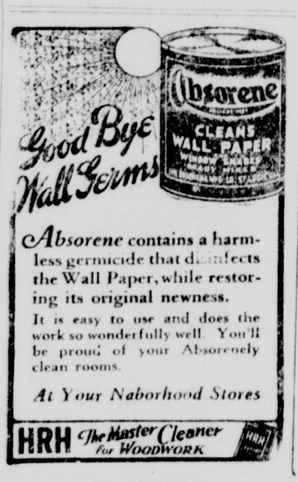

Members of the city fire department this morning went on Daylight Saving Time, in order that the department might be operated in conformity with the industries, stores and police department of the city.

Application For Radio Licenses Are Pouring In

Up To Last Saturday More Than 500 Permits Had Been Granted

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Applications for temporary radio broadcasting licenses continued to pour into the Federal Radio Commission today.

Up to last Saturday night 550 licenses had been granted. Officials were informed that about 150 applications had been mailed prior to midnight Sunday. Action on these applications will be taken as soon as they are filed with the commission.

Officials said that an effort would be made to find wave lengths for virtually all stations that applied, although applicants not already given ether space probably will be forced to divide up what few wave lengths are left.

About 30 of the 730 stations on the air when the commission took charge will not obtain licenses. Most of these, officials said are expected to drop out without filing applications.

By the last of the week, according to commissioners, it will be possible to determine what stations of the original list have failed to qualify in the new setup.

Non-Union Miner And Guard Shot

Two Hundred Houses Being Erected To House Strike Breakers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 25.—With a non-union miner and a mine guard near death from wounds suffered in a midnight gunfight near here, and word that 200 houses are being built at the Vesta Coal Company mines at Ritcheyville to house strike breakers, the spotlight in the bituminous coal controversy was centered in Washington County today.

John Dubart, 40, and Miles Sechrengost, 45, of Johnstown, the former a non-union miner and the latter a mine guard, were probably fatally wounded by a fusillade of shots at the Acme settlement of the Bethlehem Coal Corporation near here early yesterday. Wamil Bueno, 34, a union miner, was taken into custody for questioning after the fracas.

At the Ritcheyville settlement of the Vesta Coal Company, a private mine of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, it was reported that the mine, which has been closed since the suspension April 1, is the scene of activity as new houses are being erected.

The Vesta interests did not follow the lead of several other large producers in this region in renouncing union policies, and observers see in this latest move either a definite change in the company's policy, or a seperate agreement with unionists.

Special Drill For Engineers

Company B To Drill At Armory This Evening—All Recruits Must Attend

MAKING PLANS FOR FORMAL MUSTERING IN

Company B, 125th Engineers, will hold a special drill this evening at 7:30 in the armory on Neshannock avenue. Every man who has signed up with Company B is urged to be present as the time for the mustering in of the company is very close at hand and it is absolutely necessary that the officers of the company know exactly how many men may be depended upon to be present the night that the organization is mustered into service.

Those who are unable to attend tonight are asked to call Lieutenant Keely by telephone. A telephone has been installed in the armory and those who do not expect to be able to be present for this drill are asked to call 5332 without fail. A few of those men who signed up have not been attending drills and it is necessary to know the intentions of these men.

As the men attending these drills are to be paid regular armory drill pay, it is to every man's interest to attend regularly and the ones who attend regularly are the ones who will be remembered when the time comes to appoint the specialists and non-commissioned officers. There have been no specialists appointed as yet and there are a few non-commissioned officers still to be appointed.

Numerous inquiries are being received concerning drill pay checks for the period of January and February, and due former troop "A" members, and Lieutenant Keely states that he has not received them as yet but as soon as they are received, a notice to that effect will be placed in The News.

All former troop A members who have not yet received their discharge papers are requested to call at once for them, in order that this matter may be cleaned up. There are some troop A discharge papers on hand, which have been issued for the past five or six years, and it is desired to get them into the hands of the persons to whom they belong.

The drill this evening will determine the exact condition that the troop is in for the coming night of muster.

Girls Reserves Have "Boys Night"

The Senior High School Girl Reserves celebrated one of their big events of the year, with "Boys Night," Friday evening. The event was in the form of a banquet in the Highland U. P. church.

The theme of the affair was "A Bowl of Heaven." In keeping with the theme, the walls of the dining room were covered with the tone of sky blue with stars and quarter moons on the background. Tables were likewise decorated in the blue and white, the Girl Reserve colors. Covers were arranged for 140 guests. The dinner was served by the ladies of the church.

A program was carried out and a most enjoyable time had by all present. Miss Virginia Reeher was toastmistress. Miss Martha Muse gave the toast to the boys, and Walter McGrath responded with a toast to the girls. Rev. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First U. P. church, gave an interesting talk. Pep singing was led by R. E. Johns and a solo by William McCombs was a feature. The event was one of the most successful held by the organization this year.

A hick town is a place where ability to teach won't pacify a school board that doesn't like short skirts.

1,000 Moth Proof Clothes Bags FREE

An Added Feature of Our Service to Make It Doubly Worth You While to Have Your Winter Overcoat and Suit Dry Cleaned Before Putting Them Away

Dry cleaning is a very effective preventive against moths. First, because it removes all the dust, dirt and embedded grime on which moths thrive. Second, because moths avoid the odor (imperceptible to human smell) of our Pure Solvent.

It is, therefore, a wise precaution to have all the winter clothes you have discarded thoroughly dry-cleaned. They will not only be made safe against the ravages of moths but they will be ready for wear the day you need them.

As an added protection, we will return each garment sealed in a specially designed moth-proof bag. These bags cost us 50c each and we have only 2,000 in stock. They will be given FREE as long as the supply lasts.

In telephoning your order, please state that the garments are being cleaned before storing away, and you want them sealed in the moth-proof way.

Church Women Of State Raise Good Sum For Missions

Educational Advance Committee Of South America Report Fine Success

Many church women of this city, especially those who attended the luncheon at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on April 1, held in the interest of the Education Advance in South America, will be interested to learn of the splendid success which the committee in charge of this work is having throughout Pennsylvania.

Luncheons and dinner meetings are being conducted during April for the benefit of three schools in the program of the Educational Advance in South America; the Lima High School of Peru under the Methodist church; Bogota School for Boys supported by the Presbyterian church and the Colegie International at Asuncion of the United Christian Society.

Of the $250,000 required by Lima High School, $125,000 has been pledged. $30,000 of the $150,000 needed by the Bogota school. Colegie International has now $10,000 of its $75,000.

Money has been raised by the women of these three denominations in Erie, Oil City, Warren, Philadelphia, Johnstown, Williamsport, Lancaster, Wilkes-Barre, Harrisburg and New Castle.

Speakers who are taking part in the campaign in this city include those who spoke in New Castle at the luncheon. One of the largest meetings held during this month was that in Pittsburgh when reservations were made for more than a thousand women.

Make Provision For Legionnaires

To Protect Visitors To Convention In Paris Against Accident And Sickness

Full arrangements have been made for insurance of American Legionnaires against sickness and accident while enroute to the Paris convention next September, it was announced today by J. D. Kennedy.

This statement has been made upon information from Howard P. Savage, National Commander of the Legion.

For a nominal sum, health and accident insurance policy will be issued to each person who will go with the Legion to Paris. The American Red Cross and accredited welfare organizations that served in the days of the first A. E. F. will aid in looking after the comfort and health of the Legion members.

In Paris the American Red Cross is preparing to run an ambulance service and the Paris hospitals have volunteered their services. The Red Cross will also establish first aid stations both at over-seas and at embarkation points here. All the liners on which the Legion will go over are equipped with all things for cases of sickness or accident, each boat having a physician and nurse.

Announcement is made also that Legionnaires may still make reservations with their home delegations although departmental quotas were recalled by national headquarters on March 15. A check shows available for all departments choice accommodations.

Dear Brother Lion:

Tuesday we are to hear from Lion J. L. Reed and Lion John R. Ellison, our delegates to the Bethlehen convention. Come out and hear what the Lions throughout the state are doing.

Lion Marousis, chairman of the program committee, will likely have some good entertainment to please us.

Cordially yours,
L. H. McCamic,
Secretary.

Tanlac Rescues Young Mother

Three Years of Suffering From Stomach Trouble, Lack of Sleep, Run-Down Condition Relieved. Strength Restored.

"I can say with all honesty that Tanlac has done wonders for me," says Mrs. Edwin Van Auken, 8 Wheaton St., Wyoming, Pennsylvania, the mother of 2 lovely children. "For 3 years I suffered terribly from gas and cramps that always came after eating.

"Nervousness made it impossible for me to sleep. I would toss and turn, counting the long hours, waiting for morning that always found me tired and worn-out.

"I read of how Tanlac was helping others and decided that what it could do for them it could do for me. And it has. I can sit down to a good meal now and enjoy every bite, knowing I will not suffer from indigestion or gastritis. I sleep soundly and get up in the morning feeling fine. I take pleasure in recommending this great tonic."

Tanlac puts flesh on scrawny bones, builds strength and energy, relieves pain. Made from roots, barks and herbs. First bottle shows results. At druggists. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Writes Sketch Using Names Of Streets

Following is an unusually clever sketch, written by Miss Krana Sherman, aged 14 years, a Sophomore in New Castle high school, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sherman, of 427 Hillcrest avenue. Names of streets in New Castle are used throughout the sketch, it will be noted.

A ROMANCE OF THE STREETS.
By Krana Sherman

One day EDDY RAYMOND SUMNER and ALLEN ALBERT CARLISLE went to COURT ROSE SCOTT. They found her reading in a GROVE of OAK and HEMLOCK trees beside the CASCADE FALLS, NORTH EAST of the city. EDDY brought her a string of RICHELIEU PEARL-s and ALLEN brought her CHESTNUT-s, WALNUT-s and ROSE-s. But she said "Don't PARK here. Let's take a LONG walk toward the MILL across the CENTER BRIGE in QUEST of some LAUREL and MULBERRY leaves.

EDDY could talk of nothing but historical people including LEE, WASHINGTON, LINCOLN, GARFIELD and JEFFERSON. His favorite hero was DEWEY. "SHAW!" said ALLEN. My blood BOYLES when you make ROSE MOODY during her LEASURE time by BLUFF-ing all the MAIN facts of history. Let's talk of travel. As I PINE to cross the COUNTYLINE of many STATE-s. I am going SOUTH this WINTER where I will need neither coal NORWOOD for fuel. I am going to look for a VINE covered ELECTRIC COTTAGE set in a YOUNG GREEN ORCHARD near a WILDWOOD. I PINE to hear a wedding BELL. May I take the LIBERTY to ask you to marry me, ROSE? I am far SUPERIOR in every way to Mr. SUMNER so please give me a RAY of hope. ROSE smiled and said, "Yes, if I may have ELIZABETH and FLORENCE for my bridesmaids." ALLEN, in an ecstasy of joy, kissed her CHERRY lips and the crestfallen EDDY RAYMOND SUMNER crossed ELM street and disappeared in the gathering twilight.

THE MAN WHO BOASTS—

Of being an independent thinker may be only an indifferent thinker.

Of having an open mind perhaps has it confused with an empty mind.

Of his humility is usually proud of the fact that he is not proud.

Of his family may have to admit that the strain has run out.

Of his prejudices is simply confessing without knowing it.

Of his religion probably has a kind that needs defending.

Of his children can be forgiven for being a partial witness.

Odd Fellows At Church Service

Two Hundred Attend Anniversary Service At Central Presbyterian Church

With a large audience in attendance, approximately 200 members of the I. O. O. F., and the Rachel Rebekah Order, were especial guests of the Central Presbyterian congregation at the church on the public square on Sunday evening.

The members of the visiting order, who were observing the 107th anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellow's lodge in the United States, attended in a body, occupying reserved seats in the front of the church auditorium.

The service was a most interesting one. Special musical numbers were given by the church choir, directed by Paul Welsh, and including a tenor solo by William McCombs.

The members of the visiting delegation also contributed to the program, singing the ode of the organization.

The pastor, Dr. C. B. Wingerd, delivered a striking sermon to the visiting delegation, speaking on the "Three links", friendship, love and truth.

Avoid Dizzy Spells

Never well. Always tired and fagged out. Beauty tossed away by neglect. To be beautiful and to keep youth the system must be free from poisonous backwash of constipation which often causes dizzy spells. For 20 years, Dr. F. M. Edwards gave his patients, in place of calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Known by their olive color. They free the system of poisons that ravage health, energy, beauty.

You need never have sallow complexion, dull eyes, coated tongue, throbbing headaches—all signs that your bowels are clogged, liver is torpid. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly. They act smoothly and without griping. . . How much better you'll feel and look! Everywhere wise men and women who know the value of good health take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c.

Ingrown Nail

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

Confession To Be Trial Center

Mrs. Snyder's Alleged Murder Confession To Be Center Of Legal Battle

DEFENSE ATTEMPTS TO NULLIFY DOCUMENT

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 25—Ruth Brown Snyder's alleged confession that she was present when her lover Henry Judd Gray, beat her middle-aged husband to death with an iron bar as he slept is to be the focal point around which the greatest legal fight of the Snyder murder trail is fought.

District Attorney Richard S. Newcombe who today makes the state's opening address to the jury will attempt during the course of the trial to introduce as evidence a 12-page document signed by Mrs. Snyder in which the blonde defendant confessed she witnessed the actual killing of Albert Snyder early in the morning of Sunday, March 20.

"The statement was obtained under duress and therefore is not admissable as evidence" her attorneys contend.

They charge that the authorities while questioning Mrs. Snyder shortly after the murder exhibited blood-stained garments to her and used other third dergee methods.

"Why?" they demand, "wasn't some person who represented her permited to be present when the statemeit was taken."

The district attorney will counter by putting on the witness stand George V. McLaughlin, former police commissioner of New York city who on the morning of March 20 hurried to the Snyder residence in Queens village and took charge of the investigation and who later was present when the widow made her alleged confession. Newcombe's own private secretary Miss Julia Cellise who took down the statement will also be called to support the state's contention that the confession—since repudiated by Mrs. Snyder—was voluntary.

Make Charges As Result Of Sunday Concert

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 25.—Charged with violation of a "Blue Sunday" law, origin of which dates back to the early history of Pennsylvania, warrants today were being served on ten persons, including sponsors and musicians responsible for the first Sunday concert given here yesterday by the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

The concert, which was attended by a record crowd, was given over the protests of opponents after a long period of litigation.

Edgar R. Ray, private investigator employed by the Sabbath Association of Pittsburgh, swore out informations against Elias Breeskin, associate conductor of the orchestra, and nine others shortly after midnight today.

Eugene Goossens, famed orchestra leader who was present as guest conductor, and Josef Lhevinne, noted pianist, were not named in the warrants.

ELIMINATING PAIN

"Vital Air" for the Teeth

Ignorance and fear of pain keep thousands from having their teeth cared for. It has been said that the bravest man alive is a coward when it comes to visiting the dentist.

After many experiments, painless dentistry is now an assured fact.

Here "Vital Aair," a wonderful anesthetic, enables us to perform any number of dental operations without pain. When this anesthetic is used a tooth can be taken out without hurting the patient a bit. Teeth can also be filled and crowned and nerves removed without causing discomfort.

Next to the general excellence of the work itself we take much pride in being able to do it with so little discomfort to the patient.

"It didn't hurt a bit" is a favorite expression of many of our patients. We have scores of written testimonials to prove it.

There is today no reason at all for being afraid of pain if you have your dental work done at Dr. Finkelstein's.

Remember. Even difficult work on sensitive teeth can be done painlessly. Let us prove it!

A Few Testimonials Proving "There Is No Hurt"

I had several bad teeth extracted at Dr. Finkelstein's office, and I never felt the least of pain.
Miss Esther Thompson,
1159 E. Countyline St., City.

I surely had a nice dream. When I awoke both of my teeth were out. I will recommend "Vital Air" to any one.

CELEBRATE CHILD'S BIRTHDAY

A nation joins in the celebration of an unsung child's birthday May 1—National Child Health Day. That day is the birthday of little Alva Root, whose suggestion led to the annual celebration of Health Day. Mrs. Aida de Acosta Root, long active in social aid work, some years ago upon investigation found that thousands of school children died yearly of preventable diseases. Alva, very small then, asked her mother why somebody didn't tell the father and mothers on a certain day what to do for their children. That gave the idea to the American Child Health Association. Sketch, by Haskell Coffin, is of Mrs. Root, with inset of her daughter, Alva.

BURSTING RIVER LEVEES ENGULF VAST AREA

In spite of efforts of thousands of men, working chiefly under the direction of the United States army engineer department, the Mississippi's great levee system has been giving way under the tremendous strain of the stream's unprecedented flood. The top picture shows last-minute efforts to save with sand bags Reelfoot levee, three miles below Hickman, Ky. A short time after this photo was taken, wind and waves effected serious damage at the spot the picture was taken and warning was issued that the levee, protecting 90,000 acres in Kentucky and Tennessee probably would surrender to the Father of Waters any minute. Photo on lower left shows a house and shed, caught in swirling waters when a levee broke across the river from Hickman, at Dorena, Mo. The break, itself, is pictured in the photo on the lower right. Chickens, geese and furniture are seen piled on the last vestige of dry ground, awaiting a rescue boat. Numerous workers on the Mississippi levees have been reported swept to death

Corn Borer Parasites Not Numerous Enough To Control Insect

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 25.—Popular belief leads many people to suppose that all destructive plant pests may be overcome by introducing or encouraging their natural enemies, especially their parasites, extension entomologists of the Pennsylvania State College said today.

This method has been used successfully in campaigns against many pests and is being given a very thorough test in the work against the European corn borer.

Before releasing parasites in the corn borer infested area, however, it has been necessary to make careful studies of the parasites which prey upon the corn borer in its native European home, particularly in France, Italy, Belgium, and Hungary. These studies revealed several kinds of parasites that were helping to check the ravages of the pest in these countries.

After determining that none of these parasites could by any chance become harmful to plants, they were brought to the United States and liberated, after proper handling, in fields where the corn borer was most numerous. Special precautions were taken to prevent the escape of natural enemies of the parasites, known as hyper-parasites, when the parasites were liberated in this country.

Although strenuous efforts are being exerted to import and establish parasites in the Lake Erie region and in other American areas infested by the corn borer, it is by no means certain, say the entomologists, that they will develop into effective aids in controlling the corn borer. In any event, years must elapse before any important effect can be expected and in the meantime the corn borer will have to be controlled by the recommended practices of plowing completely under or burning all corn refuse.

The Western and Southern Life Insurance Company

Nearly everybody carries life insurance, but only about five men in a hundred carry enough life insurance to cover their needs. The reason is because most men do not realize that life insurance will help them solve many problems of home and business life.

Your aims and ambitions are probably about the same as any right-thinking man; life insurance is simply a means to help you realize them.

Life insurance means food, clothing and shelter for your family. It means education for your children in event of your death or total and permanent disability.

Life insurance means all these things and more.

It will create an estate which will assure comfort and independence in old age.

Our representative will gladly explain, without any obligation upon you, a plan of life insurance protection and savings which will meet your needs and at a cost within your means.

Total and permanent disability provision and double indemnity for accidental death at small additional cost.

Call any branch office or write the home office.

Poultry Industry Sixth In Value Of Farm Products

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 25.—"The poultry industry ranks sixth in value of farm products," Prof. H. C. Knandel, head of the department of poultry husbandry at the Pennsylvania State college, said today in calling attention to the growing importance of poultry as demonstrated by the fact that the National Poultry council has set aside the week of May 1 to 7 as "national egg week". "More people are directly interested in the production and consumption of eggs than any single food commodity."

The national council has organized state and national committees to develop and promote appropriate observances of "national egg week," Mr. Knandel states. The week has been set aside to call attention of the people to the peculiar and distinctive merit of the egg in a nation's diet.

"The egg is extremely rich and well balanced in digestible food nutrients and is of great value as a protective food through its high vitamine contest," says Mr. Knandel. "The hen delivers her production in the original sealed package. It is a convenient unit, easy to handel, readily shipped and tightly sealed to protect that contents from bacterial invasion or adulteration. The week should be celebrated by everyone in eating more eggs for health's sake."

British Charities Cost Enormous Sum

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 25.—British people spend $132,500,000 yearly in general charities according to statistics issued.

These figures do not include the $15,000,000 subscribed by Londoners annually to their hospitals, the proceeds of church offerings and finds, nor the amounts raised by "Flag" days—Lord Haig's Poppy Day raising $1,400,000 alone.

Apart from this, nearly 1,250,000 old folks are receiving pensions ranging from $2.50 weekly, and widows and orphans now receive state assistance to the extent of $500,000 weekly.

Since 1914, $3,750,000,000 have been paid out in war pensions alone.

Smile Tonight

Your teeth are not naturally "off color"—just film coated

MANY heartaches come from "off-color" teeth. Teeth that ruin pretty smiles. Now dingy teeth, as dental authorities prove, can be restored to whiteness quickly.

It's been found that dingy teeth come simply from a film that forms on teeth. A stubborn film old-type dentifrices did not successfully clear off. A film that absorbs food discolorations, etc.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel that film now—a slippery coating covering your teeth. Beneath it are the white teeth you envy often in others. It keeps your smile unattractive. It invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea.

Dentists say the way to remove it is with the new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent. All druggists have it. Works wonders on dingy teeth. 10-day test will be sent for coupon.

Church Prepares For New Edifice

First Methodist Board Approves Plans Of Building

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 25.—Preliminary plans for a new First Methodist Episcopal church to take the place of the famous stone church destroyed by fire several months ago have been approved by the official board.

The old walls will be used in the new structure and practically no change it is said will be made in the auditorium exterior. The important change is that the transept of Thoburn chapel will be brought out even with the new chapel.

In the basement there will be accommodations for 800 persons and a fine stage. Dramatics will be a feature of the new church program. The room will also be used by the men's class and bowling alays will adjoin the room.

The church auditorium will have a seating capacity of 1,000. It is expected the building will be opened for use January 1 next.

A box of 60 tablets for 60 cents and if any skinny man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days—money back. Ask any good druggist anywhere in America.

Be sure and get McCoy's the original and genuine—reuptable druggists won't hand you imitations any more than they will hand you counterfeit money. And don't forget there is nothing on earth so good to make backward, listless, underweight children grow strong and take on weight.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

WITHIN THE SAFETY ZONE

Peter glanced over his shoulder at Cutie Fox, who was still making the gravel fly, and shuddered.

"This is a great time to talk about losing your life! We are safe—you say yourself—Chipmunk, and that is what we ought to be thinking of, not about what would have happened had Fox beaten us to this burrow."

"Righto!" agreed the red elf cheerfully. "There is no use in being unhappy over a misfortune that didn't overtake us, is there? Now promise me that you will not worry any longer about old Cutie Fox. He can't touch us as long as we keep under cover. This tunnel is long. One day, a short while ago, I measured it myself."

"How?" asked Peter curiously. "What did you measure it with?"

"With my own body," answered Chipmunk. "I am six inches long, you know—all healthy, full-grown striped Chipmunks are—and this tunnel is just 40 times as long as I am. Wife marked each body-length with her claw, so I am sure of what I am saying. Now how long do you think it would take Cutie Fox to dig 20 feet?"

"My gracious, I don't know!" The boy was surprised to find that this dark passage into which he had come in such a hurry extended so far. He had thought it only a small hole in the ground. He was about to say, when Chipmunk brushed past him. Where was the fellow going? Surely not straight into the jaws of Fox! The daring red elf was as wise as he was saucy, though, and he took good care to stop far short of the danger line. Quite out of reach of Fox's paws he began to taunt his enemy.

"Chip, chip, chip!" chattered he. "That's right, Fox, waste all the strength you have digging up the earth and when you are tired go home! You can't catch me and you know it, but you will not own up you are beaten. I have tricked you many a time before this and I will trick you many a time again! Next time you go stalking game don't hunt down wind."

"You horrid little redcoat, you," barked Fox almost beside himself with rage. "You hold your tongue. I wasn't hunting you, if you want to know it. It was bigger game than you I was after—you just happened across my path."

"Chip, chip! Is that so?" chattered Chipmunk. "I'll bet a cherry pit that the other game escaped or you wouln't have left it to follow me!"

"Well, I nearly caught you anyhow—next time I will," barked Fox. Chipmunk shook with laughter.

"Fooled again, Fox," cried he. "It wasn't I at all that you nearly got your paws upon but two-legs, my friend."

In his surprise at this remark Fox stopped pawing up the ground.

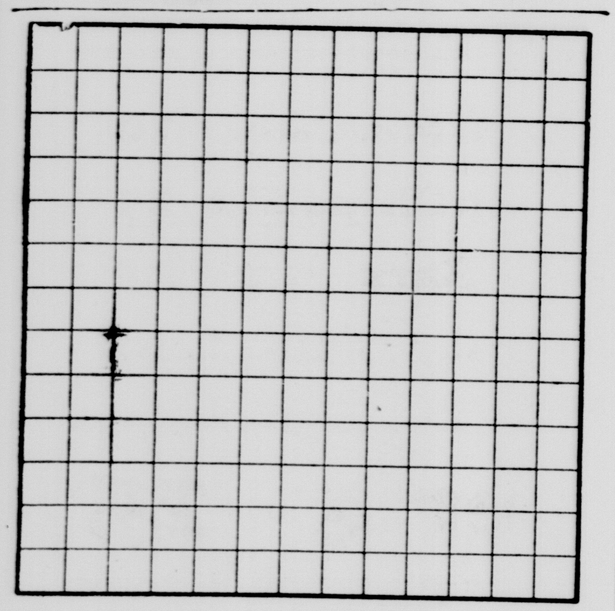

"You wretched little Chipmunk," cried he. "That is a fib and you know it. 'Twas you, you with the bushy tail, that I was after, not that queer little creature that was between you and me. I don't know who that was, but don't try to tell me it was a two-legs. How could it be a human and be only Chipmunk size?"

"That is for you to find out," cried Chipmunk mockingly. "Come boy, let's go on to the house and tell Mrs. Tamias how we fooled old Fox!"

ANNOUNCE SCHEDULE FOR TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Junior League Will Start Play May 3

Eight Teams Comprise Twilight League This Year; Fast Loop

Teams Stage Practice Sessions And Prepare To Open Race For Flag

Tuesday, May 3, will witness the start of the New Castle Twilight League season in this county. The schedule announced today calls for the eight teams to pry off the 1927 lid one week from tomorrow.

The league this year will be faster than the 1926 circuit, is the indication. Eight fast teams have signified their willingness to try for the pennant. The new teams in the league this year are Troop B, Edinburgh, Ryantown, Lawrence Indies and Radiator Colored Stars. South Hills and West Pittsburgh were members of the league last season. Hillsville is back again this year with a strong team and the 1926 pennant winners look good to repeat their showing.

A strict set of rules will govern the loop this season. The Board of Commissioners consist of Attorney James Chambers, Louis "Pick" Glitch, and the writer.

The teams will play on Tuesday and Thursday night of each week starting May 3, and ending on August 4. The schedule was drawn up by Alec Samuels and Louis Glitch and later adopted by the league managers and commissioners.

There is a widespread interest in the Twilight League this year that augurs well for its existence and record crowds are looked for at the opening games next Tuesday night. The league is representative of Lawrence County with teams from all parts of the county in the race for honors.

Church League Meeting Tonight

Managers And Directors Of Baseball Teams To Meet In Y. M. C. A.

A meeting of the managers and board of directors of the church baseball league will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. It is important that all of these men be at the meeting tonight as the schedule will be ratified as arranged by Walter Kirker of the association. Forfeit money will also be placed and the new list of players given.

This league is one of the best in the city and every year draws a lot of interest from fans of the city. The First M. E. won the championship in last season's race after playing the Central Presbyterian nine an extra game in order to decide between the two teams tied for first place. In all possibility the league will be just as close, with fine plays and good sportsmanship this year as it was last.

Connie Mack was born 65 years ago in Brookfield, Mass., and was a shoemaker before he took to baseball.

New Bleachers At Local Field Will Seat 500

New Castle Club Erects New Bleachers To Seat Several Hundred

When the opening bell clangs at Centennial Field on Saturday afternoon the fans of New Castle will find a new modern bleacher at the extreme northern end of the grandstand. The new bleachers will hold about 500 persons it is estimated.

Together with the spacious grandstand the seating capacity at Centennial Field has been increased to around 2,000. In event of good weather for the initial contest the local baseball orchard should be rather well packed.

Youngstown will be the attraction here Saturday.

Baptists To Have Practice

The First Baptist team of New Castle Church League will hold a practice session at Lehigh field on Tuesday and Friday nights of this week.

The practices are scheduled for six o'clock. It is urged that all players report promptly for the training sessions. The Baptists plan for a fast aggregation this year and they have hopes of capturing the Church League pennant.

Judge And Bishop — By Feg Murray

The Judge and the Bishop are merely two of the many major league ball players, whose names have a double meaning. What with Millers and Walkers and Butlers, not to speak of a "Young English (or French) Mann," there is enough material for a whole story, using few words besides certain well known ball players, names. In fact, "Doc" Applegate wrote such a story for a recent issue of the Baseball Magazine.

To get down to realities, however, the fact remains that the Judge and the Bishop, as represented by Joseph Ignatius, Judge of the Senators, and Max Frederick, Bishop of the Athletics, started the 1927 baseball season in quite different circumstances. The Bishop, for instance, had to sit idly on the bench while a man 11 years older than he played his position in the opening game with the Yankees at the stadium in New York. As this is only the Bishop's fourth season in the majors, he, no doubt, was slightly disappointed when Connie Mack signed up that grand old veteran, Eddie Collins, to play second base for the Athletics. But Eddie's legs are not what they were back in 1914 when he last played for the genial Mr. McGillicuddy, and it is quite possible that the Bishop may yet spend a lot of time at his regular position.

The Judge on the other hand, is now beginning his 12th straight year with the Senators. It may be that he secretly desires to break Walter Johnson's record of 21 years of continuous service with one club. But Joseph Ignatius batted only .291 last season, a drop of 23 point from his 1925 average, and there is a husky boy named Cullop hanging around who would like nothing better than to break in as a regular with the Washington team. "Cullop casts covetous eyes at Judge's job," is one way of putting it, so Joe will think more of playing better than ever, rather than of breaking any continuous service record.

The Judge is 33, the Bishop 27. Both are 5 feet 8½ inches tall, and both bat left-handed. The Bishop, however, throws right-handed and is 15 pounds lighter than the Judge, who tips the scales at 170.

Feg Murray Says—

What with both Tunney and Tilden going to England this summer, it won't be any surprise if the British parliament puts another tax on "T's".

Claims Dempsey To Fight In New York On June 29

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Jack Dempsey's much discussed return to the ring was set today at June 29 by Humbert J. Fugazy, rival promoter of Tex Rickard. Fugazy claimed that he had Dempsey's agreement to box for him on that date at the Polo grounds against the winner of the Young Stribling-Tommy Loughran bout which will be held at Ebbets field, Brooklyn on May 3.

"I have Dempsey's word that he will be ready for either Stribling or Loughran on that date" Fugazy declared. "The match will take place under the auspices of the American Legion of New York with myself as the promoter."

Fugazy declined to say how much he had offered Dempsey for the match.

Y.M.C.A. Wrestlers Defeat Butler In Matches Saturday

Walter E. Kirker, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. took three of the Association wrestlers to Butler on Saturday and secured a 2 to 1 verdict over the Butlerites.

Pearl of New Castle defeated Curci of Butler in straight falls in the 135 pound class. George of New Castle defeated Brown of Butler in the 135 pound class. Ross of Butler defeated DiCarbo of New Castle in the 155 pound class.

New Castle took two out of the three matches. The locals have not lost a match this year.

League Meetings On Tap Tonight

The Twilight league managers and officials will have an important meeting tonight at 7 o'clock, daylight savings time, at the Sporting Goods store.

All managers of the league are urged to attend the meeting. Important matters are to be taken up at this time.

Following the Twilight league session the Lawrence county league officials and managers will convene for a short period.

Snow-Flakes Halt First Workout Of New Castle Ball Players Saturday

Biting Cold Wind And Snowstorm Causes Workout To Be Abandoned

Carl Meis, Big Right-Hander, Signs Local Contract; To Practice Today

By "BUGS".

Snowballs not baseballs would have been a lot more appropriate and ever so much appreciated by the diamond artists of the New Castle O. & P. league team as they gathered at Centennial field Saturday afternoon.

It was to have been the initial workout of the season for the New Castle team, but the weather man thought otherwise and in other channels and the ball orchard was swept by one of the prettiest snow storms of the season. It snowed, and how. Baseball playing was out of the question and for that matter there wasn't much to do Saturday except sit by the fireside and play tiddley-winks or checkers.

The practice was scheduled for 2:30 o'clock but by the time the boys were ready to start throwing them around the air was filled with all manner of large white things and not baseballs either. With the actual training called off until Monday the aggregation of stars adjourned to the Y. M. C. A. where the matter of signing up material was undertaken.

The signing method was a lot more simpler than trying to throw baseballs in frigid atmosphere and plenty was accomplished by the big pen and ink men.

Meis Signs Contract.

Carl Meis, a big right-hand pitcher from Toledo, O., breezed into camp early Saturday and before he departed for Toledo late Saturday night had signed a local contract. Meis is a pitcher with plenty of experience and ability and it is figured that he will be a winning hurler for the locals this year. Meis is no youngster at the national pastime and is still the property of the Toledo Mudhens. Meis signed here under option and is subject to recall by Toledo at any time. Meis served with the Danville team of the Three-Eye league last year. In 1920 and 1921 he was with Nashville of the Southern Association and in 1922 and 1923 served them up for Shreveport in the Texas league.

Together with Mark Jamieson, the former Ellwood City star, and Robert Flynn of Sharon, Meis is expected to bolster the local flinging staff considerable. Several other first class pitchers are under consideration by the locals and the deals may be closed in a few days.

There were about 15 or 20 players on hand Saturday for the workout. Among the familiar faces which appeared was Grabfelder, the local shortstop of last year; "Sank" McCullough, Frank Weimer and Maxim. All the boys were eager to get started but they weren't so keen about playing in the Arctic league.

Bloom in Fold.

Leo Bloom, hailing from Ambridge, said to be a first class infielder, was signed to a local contract on Saturday. Bloom was formerly with the American Bridge team of Ambridge and established a fine record. It is likely that Bloom will be given a chance to play first base here. Frank Cleary, the Koppel youngster, was on hand for the initial workout and so was Merle Schachern, former Geneva college star.

Cliff Raley, formerly with the Erie Sailors, was present at the Saturday session and is under contract for the summer. Raley is a good third baseman and will bolster up the infield. It is reported here that Charles Bolschak, formerly with the Coalburg team, is anxious to play here this year and it is likely that he will be given a chance to make good.

The deal with Beaver Falls that would bring Buffington to New Castle in exchange for Grabfelder, is hanging fire at the present writing, but the writer is led to believe that the deal will be consummated very shortly. It seems that Buffington pulled the wrong dope by signing with Youngstown while still under contract with Ed Harvey at Beaver Falls and until he is released by Youngstown he is not available for a trade. The league officials have been appealed to in the case and they should render their decision very soon.

The New Castle club will try it again this afternoon at Centennial field. The time set for practice is 4 o'clock and the boys are eager to get going.

St. Louis Teams Show Punch In Week's Play

Cardinals Get Fine Pitching And Go Into Second Position

Browns Advance To Second Place By Winning Four Out Of Five Games

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, April 25.—That Ambiguity of the ages, bearing on and appertaining to the thought that the first shall be last and the last shall go right to the head of the class, was conceived in the dim, dead past; at any rate, some few years before Hank O'Day was born. It merely was accorded additional substantiation on the ball field during the week ending April 24.

Three clubs were pleased to make definite gains during the period in question and two of them were the Phillies and St. Louis Browns, who were expected into the cellar by all concerned and unconcerned weeks before a mayor threw out the first ball or someone threw out the first mayor. The third club to advance perceptibly since Monday last was the St. Louis Cardinals, who, getting the finest of pitching from Rhem, Sherdel and Alexander, jumped from sixth to second place with four victories and no defeats.

Browns Advanced

The other St. Louis club did almost as well, winning four out of five and advancing from fifth to second place. The Phillies won four in six played but remained, as is, in fifth place, in spite of the fact that, barring the Cardinals, their week's record was the best of any National league outfit.

The trio mentioned and the Tigers, Athletics, Pirates, Giants and Braves were the only clubs to play better than .500 baseball during the seven days. The Cubs, hitting around .190 as a club and scoring only eight runs in five games, gained only a single decision since last Monday and dropped from fourth to sixth place. The Indians hit a trifle better, averaging close to four runs a game, but Uhle was lambasted on several occasions and the club won only two out of five. The Reds continued to take first week's record of one won and four lost. They can't seem to hit behind good pitching nor pitch in front of good hitting.

The Dodgers, getting only fair pitching as against the most inept hitting or none at all and an infield defense that couldn't stop a standing army, tossed off four out of five again. Even the Red Sox improved on the Dodgers' record by winning two out of five.

It is well, at that, that the latter were available or the Senators might be as badly off as their list of injuries entitles them to be. Washington broke even in six games but, of their six victories since the opening of the season, at least four have been gained at the Red Sox expense.

Yanks Break Even

The Yanks and Athletics, although playing a series against each other, had much the same record, the Yanks breaking even in six games and the Athletics winning three out of five.

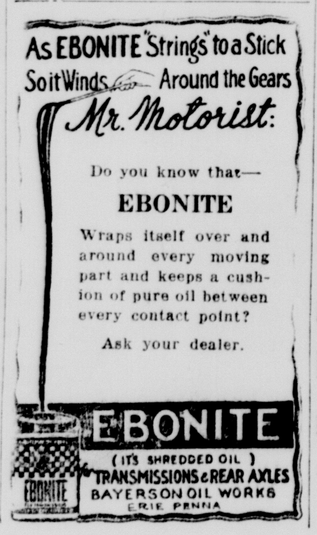

The local entry finished last week without a defeat but in the meantime they lost Pennock and the rest of the staff fell away simultaneously. A slump from the remarkable hitting pace of the first week also did the club practically no good.

The Giants likewise weren't so hot during the seven days. They continued their hitting, except in one game, and won four out of seven but the idea that the Giants were to fatten on the weak Eastern clubs seems to have died a lingering death.

The Pirates enjoyed only a fair week with three out of five, showing a decline from their murderous hitting of the season's first few days. The Braves also kept ahead of the situation with four out of seven, pitching carrying the club. The Phils hit well, as usual, and got fair pitching. Also the club is hustling for McInnes and may yet live to make an awful bum out of this writer, among others. As for the Browns, Dam Howley admits that he hasn't much but the club is getting him more than a fair return on the investment.

The Tigers, looking good and bad by turns, won three and lost two while the White Sox won only one out of four. They scored plenty of runs but the other team scored more and that sort of thing usually ends the discussing.

Japanese ball players would be world beaters if they could hit as well as they field.

Bill Steen Leaves Today For Decatur In Role As Umpire

Former New Castle O. & P. Manager And One Time Big Leaguer Turns Umpire

William "Bill" Steen, former manager of the New Castle team of the O. & P. league, leaves tonight for Decatur, Ill., where he has accepted a position as umpire in the Three-Eye league. The season opens April 28.

Steen in going to the Three-Eye league as an official, returns to one of his former haunts. Steen at one time in his 20 years of baseball playing was located in the Three-Eye league as a pitcher.

Steen is an old timer at the national pastime. "Bill" has arrived at the grand old mark of 40 years. Steen began his baseball career in New Castle away back in 1907 as a pitcher with the local team of the O. & P. league. Leaving New Castle in 1909, he went to the Three-Eye league, to the Association, to the Central league, to the Pacific Coast league, then to Cleveland in the American league, and back to the Pacific coast again.

Prior to coming back to New Castle, Steen pitched in the San Juaquin valley, California loop, a semi-pro league.

His playing days over and having outlived his usefulness as a pitcher, Steen feels that he has a chance to make good as an umpire, and while he still retains that instinct to hurl the pellet, Steen also feels that he is capable of calling them in proper fashion. With his many years of baseball experience Steen should advance quite rapidly as an arbiter.

Steen has a host of friends in New Castle who wish him lots of success in his new enterprise and his work as an official will be watched with interest by the local followers of baseball.

The marathon of the Irish-American A. C. of Detroit, which has developed in a few years into one of the most important events of its kind in the entire country, will be run this year on May 27, over the one-mile track at the Michigan State Fair grounds.

Three Thousand Will Enter Relay Carnival

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—Lord Burghley and his teammates from Cambridge, will lead the vanguard of over three thousand entries to the Thirty-Third annual Relay Carnival which starts Friday morning on Franklin Field.

The titled Englishman will make his second appearance at the annual University of Pennsylvania games when he competes on both Friday and Saturday. In 1925 Burghley surprised the college track world by winning the 400 meters hurdle championship from a fast field that included John Gibson, of Fordham.

Last year Gibson captured the event in time that almost equalled Burghley's. On Friday the same two will face a strong field in that event, in which a new record may be established.

Burghley, accompanied by T. C. Livingstone - Learmouth, G. C. Weightman-Smith, H. P. Bowler, and J. O. Richardson, will work out on Franklin Field for the first time this afternoon. All five will be contestants in the 120 yard high hurdle race which has drawn a field of fifty three from all sections of the country. It addition the visiting Englishmen will compete in the 480 yard shuttle hurdle relay, an event run last year for the first time.

Hank Russell, former Cornell star, and intercollegiate record holder in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, has been preparing for the special 100 and 220 yard dashes on Franklin Field for several weeks. Jackson Scholz will arrive Saturday morning, his practice having been held on the Columbia cinder path.

Roland Locke, the world's record holder for 220 yards will arrive Friday morning and will take a workout on the field during the afternoon though he will not compete until Saturday. All three sprinters have pronounced themselves in excellent shape.

The Delta Collegiate Institute, of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, expects to arrive tomorrow afternoon to conclude its training program for the national Interscholastic championship races in which it will participate.

The Western Conference teams, including Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Chicago, Michigan and Illinios, will arrive here on Wednesday afternoon. Teams from Georgia Tech, Alabama Poly and other institutions are expected to arrive on the same day.

Activity starts on Friday morning at 10 o'clock when the eleven entries in the decathlon start on their ten event grind with the 100 meters dash. The broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meters run will all be contested in the morning by the decathlon entrants.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the last half of the long grind will get under way for the decathlon entrants, simultaneously with the high and elementary school events. Forty four events in all will be contested the first day.

Interest on the first day will center around the American college, high and prep school championships. The quarter mile interscholastic and college championships have drawn huge fields necessitating the running of time trials in which the team making the fastest time will be adjudged the winner.

The distance college medley has drawn a field that includes Michigan State, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Penn State and others. Twenty two high and prep schools will be in the interscholastic medley championship.

The shuttle hurdle relay race will be run on Saturday this year, instead of Friday. Burghley and his teammates will meet Pennsylvania, Penn State, Yale and Princeton, among others.

The two mile run on the opening day has an exceptional entry list with Loucks, of Syracuse, Shimek, Marquette and Zona, Wisconsin, and Cox, Penn State as the outstanding performers.

Capitols Will Have Practice

The Capitol baseball team will hold a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday night at 7 o'clock to organize for the coming season. Election of officers will take place at the meeting.

The meeting was called by Acting Manager "Red" McIntosh. The following players are asked to be present at the meeting: Kroen, Woods, McIntosh, J. Hill, W. Hill, R. Hannon, R. Hudson, J. Kearns, A. Shoaff, A. Davis, Lannigan and any others who wish to try for positions with the Capitols.

Many years ago rowing flourished at numerous eastern colleges, where it no longer figures among the college athletic activities. In the early '70s crews were maintained at more than two dozen colleges, whereas a dozen make up the list today. Names once familiar in college rowing circles, but now no longer heard, include those of Hamilton, Dartmouth, Brown, Wesleyan, Williams, Trinity, Amherst and Bowdoin.

Lost! One Hour Saturday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, April 25.—Finder will please return sometime in September, the hour that the town of Ellwood City lost last Saturday night. It disappeared at twelve o'clock, much to the disgust of merry-makers, who had to go home earlier on that account, and has not been found since.

However, as a general thing, the people of Ellwood City favor the Daylight Savings time, and the P. & L. E. schedules have conformed to it accordingly. The churches went through without a hitch yesterday, no church-bells being rung an hour too late and nobody arriving in time for the benediction.

Cardinals Win From Pirates

Frankie Frisch's Hit In Third Inning Scores Winning Run

TRAYNOR HITS HOMER IN SEVENTH FRAME

ST. LOUIS, April 25.—The first baseball clash of the season between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates which occurred Sunday, went to the world champions 2 to 1, the opposing hurlers being Alexander and Aldridge. While Aldridge really outpitched the hero of the world series the teammates of the famed flinger Alexander, with the exception of Pie Traynor could not solve Alex the Great.

The third inning was fatal for the Pirates as Thevenow sent a single through Traynor. Alexander walked. Douthitt went out on a grounder and Southworth sent a fly to Paul Waner, scoring Thevenow. With Alexander on third Frankie Frisch, formerly of the New York Giants came through with a single to left scoring Alexander with the winning run.

Pittsburgh's only run came in the seventh when Traynor lifted a home run into the left field bleachers.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

But for the fact that his illness forced him from the game, Jess Petty might now be duplicating his spectacular feat of last spring when he won five or so games in a row for the Brooklyn Dodgers before being defeated and almost single-handed put them in the running temporarily at least.

Up to the day when he was found to have a militant appendix he was the only Brooklyn pitcher to win a game and the only one to go the entire route. He won the opener for the Dodgers and would have won his second start but for a muffed fly by one of his teammates, Babe Herman.

Petty's illness is a sad blow to Uncle Robbie as Dazzy Vance wanders about aimlessly.

The word "veteran" in baseball applies more to service than to age. This is borne out by the case of Mike Gazella, Yankee infielder.

Because of the fact that he has spent much of his time as utility infielder Mike is still considered as a youngster in the game. The other day when Miller Huggins sent him in at third to replace Joe Dugan when the latter was stricken ill, the scribes referred to the "youngster's" opportunity.

As a matter of fact Gazella is just one year younger than Jumping Joe. The latter is 30 and Mike is 29.

Also Mike has been with the Yanks since around 1923.

It's a long grind ahead and the seasoned campaigners may not be well under way yet but right now there are several youngsters in the major league lineups who are enjoying their fling as leaders in various departments of the game.

There's Al Tyson, young outfielder of the Giants, for instance. At the close of the first week's play he was topping Rogers Hornsby, Eddie Roush and the rest of the old boys of his team and the league in batting, in the number of hits collected and number of bases stolen.

Earl Webb, newcomer with the Cubs, was fighting it out for home run honors in his league with Hack Wilson, a teammate, and Hornsby.

Young Mr. Mark Koenig, fulfilling momentarily at least my prediction that he would take a brace in his hitting, has been leading the American league in batting and number of base hits collected.

Mike Gazella, sent in to replace Joe Dugan at third for the Yanks, proceeded to seek the tripling honors.

* * *

Lefty Williams, young southpaw recommended to the Brooklyn Dodgers a couple of springs ago by Nap Rucker, seems to be in for a big year with the Jersey City team. Opened the season with a one-hit game. The only hit scored off him was made on the first ball pitched, before his infield was set. Scorers say it might well have been called an error rather than a hit.

Local Radiator Bowlers Defeat Johnstown Team

New Castle Radiator Bowling Team Wins Match And Loving Cup

For the third time in as many successive years the Duck Pin team of the New Castle Plant of the National Radiator Co. defeated their rivals from the Johnstown Plant of the same Company in a match rolled on Saturday evening.

The visiting bowlers arrived in this city early Saturday afternoon and were accompanied by nearly a half hundred fellow employes of the Johnstown Plant and General Offices, the latter also being located at Johnstown.

Early in the evening they joined forces with more than a hundred employes of the local plant and their friends and from the start to the finish of the match both sides kept up a continuous uproar for their respective teams.

The New Castle team got off to a bad start and at the end of the first game were trailing the Johnstowners by 13 pins. The visitors increased their lead to 56 pins at the end of the second game, due largely to the individual work of George Gindelsperger whose total of 204 pins for the second game, was the highest of the evening.

However, at the start of the third game the New Castle boys took a stiff brace and with the substitution of McNickle for Hartman, who had had exceedingly hard luck in the first two games, were able to overcome the earlier lead of the visitors and annexed the game by a margin of 99 pins, which gave them the match by the close margin of 43 pins.

Baskeyfield was the leading scorer for the locals with a total of 439 pins for three games with Logue a close second with a total of 435 pins. Hamilton rolled his usual steady game as did also Kennedy and McNickle.

For the visitors G. Gindelsperger was the individual star, while Hazell showed up well in the two games in which he rolled.

Following is the score:

While the main match was in progress the second teams from the two plants were also "locking horns", which resulted in a complete victory for the New Castle "Boiler Makers." After the first game the locals got going and won the match by a safe margin of 137 pins.

Reds Fail To Display Class

Cincinnati Fans Stay Away From Ball Park In Droves As Team Loses

DODGERS STILL CELLAR CHAMPIONS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 25.—Support for the policy of Secretary of State Kellogg in refusing to recognize the Reds was understood to be forthcoming today from Cincinnati, where the fans have become so disheartened that they are beginning to stay away from the ball park in droves.

After a winning effort on Saturday, the Reds lost again to the Cubs yesterday, 5 to 3, and would be in last place today if the prostrate forms of the Brooklyn Dodgers were not blocking the cellar door. The team is not hitting, the unlucky Odolpho Luque is again cast in the role of lady luck's disappointed suitor and Manager Jack Hendricks has been playing chess with his eight-man infield in an effort to find a winning combination. Arthur Nehf, who previously displayed all the earmarks of a genuine comeback, was knocked out of the box yesterday in the first inning.

Aside from the Reds, the national pastime began to get back to normalcy today with Rogers Hornsby assuming the batting leadership of the National league and Babe Ruth collecting his third home run of the season. Ruth's homer was not the feature of the Yankees' 6 to 2 victory over Washington, however. The big noise was Pinch Hitter Durst's triple with the bases full.

St. Louis fans began to realize that they have two ball teams instead of one as the second-place Browns took a 9 to 4 slugfest from Cleveland. Zachary was the winning hurler.

In the National league the champion Cardinals beat the Pirates, 2 to 1, and advanced to within a half a game of first place. Grover Alexander had a slight edge over Vic Aldridge in the box.

The Giants pasted Edwards and Wertz to a fare-thee-well and took a 12 to 8 batting bee from the Braves. Al Devormer swung a mean shillalah and collected four hits.

Beating Brooklyn 5 to 1 was just a breeze for Hal Carlson of the Phillies. Dazzy Vance failed to dazzle anybody and his mates messed up the landscape with fiv errors.

Bob Fothergill played a leading role as the Tigers nosed out the White Sox, 4 to 3. Robert pounded out three hits and engineered a double steal with Blue.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Fighting at Galveston, Texas.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

ON OCT. 8, 1862, GALVESTON, TEXAS, HAD BEEN TAKEN BY A UNION SQUADRON UNDER COMMODORE RENSHAW, WHO WITH 8 SHIPS AND A SMALL LAND FORCE UNDER COL. BURRILL CONTINUED TO HOLD THE CITY. ON JAN. 1, 1863, RENSHAW WAS ATTACKED BY A LARGE BODY OF CONFEDERATES LED BY GEN. J. B. MAGRUDER, AND FOUR SOUTHERN GUNBOATS.

CONFEDERATE FORCES IN TWO STEAMERS ATTACKED THE U. S. GUNBOAT "HARRIET LANE" AND, AFTER DRIVING THE UNION GUNNERS FROM THEIR STATIONS WITH RIFLE-FIRE, BOARDED AND TOOK POSSESSION. LATER, THE CONFEDERATES ABOARD THE "HARRIET LANE" FORCED THE SURRENDER OF THE SMALL FEDERAL GARRISON ASHORE.

MEANWHILE, THE UNION FLAGSHIP "WESTFIELD" HAD RUN HARD AGROUND AND COMMODORE RENSHAW RESOLVED TO BLOW HER UP AND ESCAPE FROM GALVESTON WITH THE REMAINING VESSELS. THE "WESTFIELD" WAS SATURATED WITH TURPENTINE, THE TORCH APPLIED AND THE CREW BEGAN TRANSFERRING TO THE OTHER FEDERAL SHIPS.

UNFORTUNATELY, BEFORE THE OFFICERS HAD LEFT THE DOOMED SHIP, THE FLAMES SPREAD TO THE MAGAZINE. THERE WAS A FRIGHTFUL EXPLOSION AND THE "WESTFIELD" WAS TOTALLY DESTROYED. THE BLOWING UP OF THE FLAGSHIP WAS A SIGNAL FOR THE REST OF THE UNION GUNBOATS TO MAKE THEIR ESCAPE. THIS THEY DID, LEAVING GALVESTON IN THE HANDS OF THE CONFEDERATES.

Magistrate Goes On Trial Charged With Conspiracy

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 25.—Magistrate George E. Rowland, accused of conspiracy to extort, went on trial today before Judge James Gay Gordon in quarter sessions court. Counsel for the defendant secured separate trials for the magistrate and his son, George F. Rowland, also charged with conspiracy to extort, when the case was called today. The father also faces charges of malfeasance, misfeasance and misdemeanor in office.

Indictments against the magistrate have 260 counts. Fifty-two counts are specified in the bill against his son.

District attorney Charles E. Fox is personally prosecuting the case. He has marshalled about 200 witnesses. William A. Gray is defending the Rowlands.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Professional traders launched a vigorous attack on the industrial stocks at the beginning of trading today, and succeeded in forcing downward prices of all but a few of the railroad and specialty stocks which held the center of the stage last week.

Distressing reports from the Mississippi valley flood districts, with an estimated loss of a billion dollars in property; discouraging first quarterly reports from a number of prominent industrial companies, and a growing belief in the speculative district that the market was "due" for at least a temporary reaction, were the most important factors in inducing heavy offerings of stock.

Marland Oil reported net earnings of only 9 cents a share in the first quarter of the year, against $1.90 a share in the same period last year, thus explaining the recent sharp decline in the stock from 50 to 37½. Phillips Petroleum was again under fire, the stock dropping to a new low at 41¼, which represents a loss of about 20 points on the movement. The balance of the oil share market was fairly steady.

Delaware and Hudson's 9 point jump to 215 was the feature of the railroad stocks. Demand was due to reports of possible segregation of valuable property and securities. Stocks of the western roads were firm, while only mild reactions were recorded in the active investment rails.

Efforts to cause wide reactions in the industrial stock leaders were without much results. General Motors dropped back about a point, but United States Steel rose fractionally, while General Electric advanced to the year's high price of 93¾ in a heavy turnover. International Nickel continued as the spectacular feature of the specialty stocks, with heavy trading attributed mostly to Canadian buying. Call money unchanged at 4 per cent.

Thousands Of Letters To Mellon Urge Haynes Be Given Appointment

Letters To Secretary Mellon Ask Permanent Appointment Of Haynes

Andrews Fights Against Haynes; Coolidge Also Gets Many Appeals

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 25.—More than three thousand communications most of them urging the permanent appointment of Acting Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes have been received by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon it was stated at the treasury today.

Except for this statement the the treasury made no official comment on the charge of William H. Stayton national chairman of the association against the prohibition amendment that Wayne B. Wheeler, Anti-Saloon League chief is using "high power propaganda" to force Mellon to give Haynes a permanent commission at the head of the government's dry army.

Many Oppose Haynes.

A majority of the letters urging Haynes' appointment are from Anti-Saloon league members or officials. A considerable number of communications have been sent to Mellon opposing Haynes, officials declare.

Unofficially the treasury was pleased with Stayton's so-called "expose" of the Anti-Saloon league campaign. Officials frankly admitted that the Anti-Saloon league had exerted its utmost influence to obtain Haynes' appointment and was continuing the drive to force Mellon to name him permanent commissioner.

Similar pressure is being exerted at the White House, many letters and telegrams having been sent to President Coolidge relative to Haynes officials said.

Stayton's assertion that on four occasions superior officers of Haynes in the treasury had slated him for removal but that Wheeler's appeal to the White House saved him has been common gossip at the treasury since General L. C. Andrews dry chief became assistant secretary.

Hard Fight Starts.

Andrews removed from Haynes all his authority in the dry machines, but was unsuccessful in getting him off the government's payroll. It was generally understood that the prohibition reorganization bill was a final effort to eliminate Haynes, but again officials said he has been saved by the Anti-Saloon league.

A determined fight is now in progress to prevent Haynes' permanent appointment. Andrews and officials in the prohibition bureau are said to be still hopeful that they can bring about the appointment of another candidate for the commissionership. Final action on the dry appointment is expected this week.

SLAYS NEPHEW, SHOOTS WIFE, DAUGHTER, SELF

Martins Ferry Man Uses Two Guns In Domestic Tragedy

MARTINS FERRY, O., April 25.—With a revolver in each hand, George Thomas, 54, on Sunday entered the kitchen of the home of his estranged wife, who was eating a midnight supper with their son, two daughters and a nephew, and without speaking opened fire. The nephew was slain and his wife and one daughter were seriously wounded. The elder Thomas then turned the guns on himself.

The slain nephew was Peter Callagher, 27, a Yorksville (O.) confectioner, who had planned to be married in Europe this summer.

Thomas and his wife, Mary, are near death at Martins Ferry hospital.

Their daughter Goldie, 19, was shot through her mouth. She may recover. The son, Max, was shot at as he ran out of the room to call police but he was not hit.

The second daughter, Mrs. Susan Pappas, turned off the lights in time to escape injury.

Domestic troubles, police believe, led to the shooting. All those involved had just returned from Easter services at a Greek church here.

MENU HINT

Simple desserts are best for warm weather. Prunes are healthy, as every one knows, and coupled with nuts and whipped cream make an ideal dessert.

Stuffed Round Steak
Mashed Potatoes Cabbage Salad
Creamed Carrots and Peas
Stuffed Prunes with Whipped Cream
Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES

Stuffed Round Steak—Use a two-pound slice of round steak, one-half inch thick. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little ginger, heat four tablespoons fat in frying pan, add two cups of bread crumbs, two tablespoons grated onion and a small bit of salt pork, chopped. Cook two or three minutes and spread on steak. Roll it and tie with string. Put in kettle with a little fat, sprinkle with flour and let it brown. Add a pint of boiling water, cover and let simmer for two hours.

Stuffed Prunes with Whipped Cream—Allow six cooked prunes for each person, remove pit and insert English walnut. Arrange on a bed of whipped cream which has been placed in dessert glasses.

SUGGESTIONS

When you straighten up the house in the morning put the things that you want to take upstairs at the foot of the stairs to be picked up at the first trip up. Then when you go up stairs put the things that belong downstairs at the head of the stairs to be carried down first time the doorbell rings. It saves many steps.

Covering the Board

The most successful method of covering the ironing board is to tack the cloth on wet. Then when it dries it will be absolutely tight and smooth.

Mends China.

Splendid cement for broken china is made by mixing plaster of Paris with the white of an egg until the consistency or cream. Apply as you would any prepared cement.

Increased Interest Being Shown In Plans For City Expansion

Replies to questionairres are pouring into headquarters of the New Castle Expansion Movement at the rate of several hundred daily. Incerased interest is manifested as shown by the voting on the order of the projects and by the additional suggestions that are being offered.

Final decision on the projects will be made after Saturday of this week when the policies and projects committee will make its recommendations to the board of directors.

With the increased demand upon the chamber by the addition of projects hitherto not included in its activities it will obviously be necessary to increase its financial support in order to carry out this enlarged program.

Industrial business firm and professional men will be asked to increase their subscriptions of former years and it is hoped a larger individual membership than the chamber has ever had will result so that the forward looking program now being planned will not have to be curtailed to conform with a smaller budget than the fulfillment of the project program will require.
